CHURCH WEDDING IN SANTA FE A FORMER GETTYSBURG BOY MARRIED TO A SANTA FE BELLE.

A Gettysburg College Graduate—Montfort Melchoir United in Marriage to a Virginian, Ceremony by Groom's Father.

Hardinge—Palen

A copy of the Santa Fe "New Mexican" has just reached this office giving an account of the wedding of Robert M. Hardinge and Miss Caryl Webb Palen last month. The groom is a son of the late Col. John Hardinge, who lived many years in this place, and a graduate of the college in the class of 1885, and while in college there was no more popular boy in town or college. The bride was a native of Santa Fe, the accomplished daughter of Major and Mrs. R. V. Palen, and the wedding occurred in the Episcopal Church of the Holy Faith. The church was decorated in green and white, at one side of chancel a bank of green palms, ferns, etc., and on the other side masses of daisies, snowballs, roses and peonies.

The bridal party was made up of three bridesmaids and three gentlemen attending them, the maid of honor and mother of bride. The bride followed on arm of her father and at the chancel was met by groom and his best man. Rev. W. R. Dye performed the ceremony. The bride was dressed in a beautiful gown of white chiffon and wore a large picture hat. She carried pink brides roses.

After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Hardinge then left for a wedding tour and recently landed at their new home. Mr. Hardinge having been transferred from Santa Fe Weather Bureau office to assume charge of the station at Syracuse, New York.

"Bob" Hardinge, as everyone knew him, after his graduation entered the signal service of the United States army and continued in the service after that department had been transferred to Agricultural Department. In May 1896 he was sent to Santa Fe and the Santa Fe "New Mexican" of recent date published his picture and says of him, "During his tour of duty in this city Mr. Harding has performed the important duties devolving upon him to the satisfaction of his superiors and with great benefit to the agricultural and stock interests of the territory. He is thoroughly educated, an expert in meteorological and climatic science, conscientious in the performance of duty and a competent, attentive and efficient public official. He has made many warm friends in the capital city of New Mexico and has become a social favorite. His departure for his new station is regretted by all those having had official or personal relations with him."

Melchoir—Wagg.

Montfort Melchoir son of Rev. and Mrs. O. H. Melchoir, and Miss Elizabeth Wagg of Marion, Virginia, were quietly married at the home of the groom at Springtown, Bucks county, Pa., on last Thursday at noon. The wedding took place at a time when Rev. O. H. Melchoir was busy with the celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his first and only pastorate at Springtown. The groom, well known here while attending college, had been teaching at Marion for several years. The past spring he taught two months as a supply in Perkiomen Seminary in Bucks county, about twenty miles from his home. He was recently elected Professor of Natural Sciences and History in that institution.

A Head-on Collision

A head-on collision took place at Porter's on the Western Maryland railroad at noon on last Wednesday. The train leaving Hanover for Hanover Junction at 12.17 was standing on main track at Porter's and the passengers for York had just alighted when the west bound passenger train from Baltimore came into view from around curve. The train had been slowing down to stop at station but could not be stopped before it crashed into the engine at depot. Both engines were badly damaged and a number of passengers were shaken up. Mrs. J. J. Conrad of Hanover fainted several times from the effects of shock and Clarence Sheppard, little son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Sheppard was cut about the face. There was no other injury to passengers.

A Small Trespass Case

George S. Kump of Littlestown was defendant in a small trespass case which resulted after a cherry picking episode. He went to his farm one day last week and seeing a cherry tree full of nice fruit made up his mind to pick some. The tree was just about on line between his farm and that of Samuel Basehoar. While he was picking cherries the wife of the tenant on the Basehoar place came to same tree to pick cherries. Mr. Kump helped her to place her ladder in position and in doing so got on the Basehoar land. The trespass case followed and Mr. Kump paid $5.00 to end the case.

A Strange Kind of Caller.

Mrs. Murray Smiley on Hanover street went into her parlor last week one day and found a strange caller there in the shape of a snake about eighteen inches long. She called on a neighbor to interview the caller, and his snakeship paid the penalty of his impudence. Mr. Althoff, who dispatched it, said it was a hoop snake, a rare variety in this locality.

PARKER AND DAVIS NOMINATED

ALTON B. PARKER OF NEW YORK DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE FOR PRESIDENT.

Henry G. Davis of West Virginia is Standard Bearer For Vice President - A Great Winning Ticket.

The Democratic National Convention at St. Louis during four days and about as many nights last week presented one of the greatest spectacles and demonstration that the country has had for years of strong healthy politics. It was composed of representative men of the party, those who have been leaders. Many went there with planks of platform prepared and to support certain candidates but when the great convention of the people got down to work every plank presented to committee on resolutions was debated and argued and the finished product is a great state paper about which many minds had their say and came to a harmony of an understanding.

Many names had been talked about for officers of the convention and for nominees but when the will of the majority had been expressed there were many surprises.

The convention was called to order on Wednesday and John Sharp Williams of Mississippi was presented as Temporary Chairman and in a great speech he riddled with the shafts of ridicule the many inconsistencies of the Roosevelt administration and the fallacies in the Republican platform. The preliminary work of the convention was well disposed of by Thursday evening, the incident of most consequence being the fight over the contested delegation from Illinois and it was in this contest Wm. J. Bryan met his first defeat in the convention, his minority report being refused to be adopted by a vote of 647 to 299.

The same day committee on permanent organization reported Champ Clark as permanent chairman and in taking the chair he delivered a speech in which he poured broadside shots into the opposition, declaring that the Roosevelt war on trusts was a farce and that the swapping of Attorney General Knox into the Senate showed it was a bunco game and was a reward for favors rendered the trusts by the administration.

On Friday came the presentation of the platform after a long struggle over it by the Committee on resolutions, and as presented it was the unanimous act of the committee and went through the convention Friday evening without objection. The same night the candidates were placed in nomination. Martin W. Littleton, of New York, presenting the name of Alton B. Parker. The nomination was seconded by Senator Carnack of Tennessee. Name of William R. Hearst was presented by California and a number of favorite sons by other states. The ballot taken early Saturday morning, 5 o'clock, gave Parker 658, Hearst 204, Olney 38, Cockrell 42, Miles 3, Wall 27, McClellan 3, Towne 2, Gray 3, Gorman 2, Patterson 4, Coler 1 and Williams 2. Idaho and West Virginia changed their ballots, giving Parker 687, the required two thirds. Convention then adjourned to reassemble later in day to nominate a vice president.

When the convention got together the names of Congressman James R. Williams of Illinois, Senator George R. Turner of Washington, Ex-Senator Henry G. Davis of West Virginia and Ex-Senator Wm. A. Harris of Kansas, were placed in nomination for the vice-presidency. Balloting was about to begin, when the following telegram was received from Judge Parker.

"I regard the gold standard as firmly and irrevocably established, and I will act accordingly if the action of the convention to-day is ratified by the people. Inasmuch as the platform is silent on the subject I deem it necessary to make this communication to this convention for its consideration, as I should feel it my duty to decline the nomination except with that understanding."

The man who had remained silent for many weeks had at length spoken fearlessly. It took the convention by storm and an adjournment followed.

At the final meeting on Saturday evening Senator Tillman presented the following reply proposed to be sent by the convention. "The platform adopted by this convention is silent on the question of the monetary standard, because it is not regarded by us as a possible issue in this campaign, and only campaign issues were mentioned in the platform. Therefore there is nothing in the views expressed by you in the telegram just received which would preclude a man entertaining them from accepting a nomination on said platform."

The motion to send this message carried by 779 yeas to 192 nays.

The balloting for Vice President then proceeded. Davis secured 652 votes and States began at once to change their votes and the nomination was then made unanimous.

Thomas Taggart of Indiana will likely be the Chairman of National Committee.

Alton Brooks Parker

Born in Cortland, N. Y., in 1852. Educated in the public schools and at the Cortland Academy.

Lightning Eccentricities

Lightning struck the house of Cyrus G. Fissel of Cumberland township on Monday afternoon. Mrs. Fissel and two daughters were convalescent from tonsillitis, the mother being in bed. The bolt of lightning struck the chimney and completely tore it to pieces so that it will have to be built new from foundation. It tore up garret floor and sent a shower of plaster and about fifty bricks into bed room of Mrs. Fissel but did not injure her. Mr. Fissel was in room at time and his wife jumped out of bed and he helped her down stairs. There they found the lightning had followed the stove pipe, tearing it to pieces, then escaped through floor, boring a hole about an inch in diameter through carpet and floor and tore to pieces part of the foundation in cellar. A daughter was in the kitchen at the time and she was knocked down but recovered in a few minutes. All the family miraculously escaped, though the house was considerably damaged.

Name of N. G. P. Camp

The disciples of the late political master of the Commonwealth, who fill about all the offices and have much to do with the National Guard encampment to be held here, have decided to call the camp after their patron saint. It will be formally called Camp M. S. Quay.

The officials of the Reading Ry. Co., General Superintendent A. T. Dice, Superintendent F. S. Stevens, Superintendent of Telegraph C. M. Lewis and others were here last Friday arranging details of the encampment which will have to do with the railroad end of it and also arranging for the big excursion traffic expected.

Lightning Hit Monument.

The handsome Minnesota monument on Hancock avenue was struck by lightning on Sunday. The base was slightly damaged, strips of lead having been driven out. Harry Reifsnider was driving a team of Sifton and Flemming's and passed the monument at that moment. The white horse in team was stunned and fell to ground but shortly afterwards recovered.

A WARM ROUTINE MEETING

THAT IS, TOWN COUNCIL MEETING ROOM WAS AS WARM AS IT COULD BE.

And the Members Hurried Through the Routine Work of the Month - Pay Roll.

The regular July meeting of the Town Council met on last Tuesday evening at the regular hour, 7.30. The council chamber was very close and warm. President A. B. Plank called meeting to order and following members were present, Councilmen Wolf, Swift, Gilbert, Becker, Menchey and Beck.

Minutes of previous meeting were read, also of the special meeting passing hack license and same were approved after some discussion, certain members asking whether hack license ordinance would not tax buggies and the answer being no.

Councilman Gilbert of the committee to procure tags under hack ordinance produced four sample tags, white one with red figures, white with black figures, red with white figures and a brass one with raised figures. Just for the little fun of having a dispute there was a discussion what the style and color should be and the brass one won out.

The Highway Committee was asked to report what had been done about sewer ordered through lot of Frank Garlach. They laughed and said when they went to fix sewer, damages were asked to go through the yard and they had refused to pay for what was already in yard and that they had fixed in the mouth of the drain.

The report of the borough auditors was accepted, auditing the account of last year with statement that the debt of the borough was $5,000. There was no schedule of taxes due and unpaid attached to same. The report will be found in another column.

There was a little talk about a bill sent in by Park Noel as extra police. It seemed the Burgess had ordered the services and Councilmen said if Burgess was going to hire an extra policeman for the town they might as well elect one. A motion went through that another regular policeman should be put on for the next two months. Then when it came to the election of a policeman no one knew any one that wanted the job, so the election of an extra policeman went over.

Treasurer Kelly made the following report.

J. Kerr Lott's Barn Coo up in Smoke.

The large barn on the farm of J. Kerr Lott, three or four miles from town took fire on last Saturday afternoon and was burnt to the ground with all the contents. The family were away from home at the time attending the funeral of Mrs. W. F. Lott. No one was about the premises but a young hired boy and a hired woman.

A Miss Mollie Shrum. It was not struck by lightning, but in some accidental way it is thought took fire. Mr. Lott lost a fine bull weighing about 1,700 lbs., one cow, one calf, one hog, three wagons, stick-wagon, cutters and all his farming implements. The hired boy got all the horses out of stable. Miss Shrum heroically got all the cows out and hogs except those lost.

Of this season's crops about six wagon loads had been hauled into barn. No grain of this season had been hauled in. The loss of Mr. Lott will run up to $2,000 and over. He has insurance of $100 on barn in Adams County company and of $400 on the contents.

Bitten by Savage Dog.

Joseph Wiernman on one day last week was bitten by a savage dog in alley in rear of City Hotel. He was walking along, swinging his arm and had no thought of being attacked when dog jumped at him and tore his hand in an ugly way.

Depot Rights of Hackmen

Harry Reifsnider, a driver for Sifton & Flemming, was arrested last week and had a hearing before Justice of the Peace Quimby, charged with going on platform of Reading Depot beyond line established by borough ordinance to solicit the passengers to take carriage. He was fined $1 and costs but took an appeal to court in order to test the ordinance. The ordinance was framed to keep an open way for passengers and put all hackmen on an equality as near as possible.

A Small McSherrystown Fire

Tuesday afternoon of last week the roof of the out-kitchen at home of L. E. Martin in McSherrystown was discovered on fire. A bucket brigade was immediately formed and flames extinguished before the arrival of the fire company. The fire, it is supposed, originated by a spark from the chimney. The damage which is confined to the roof is slight. The property is insured in the Adams County Mutual.

The Brilliant Meteor.

Many observers in neighborhood of Baltimore saw an usual brilliant Meteor sail through sky on last Sunday evening. The following letter to Baltimore Sun shows it was seen in Adams County.

Mrs. Leo A. Sneeinger writes THE SUN, under date of July 4, from Edgegrove, Pa., as follows:

"We were very much surprised on reading in THE SUN of today the description of the meteor seen last night in Baltimore county—the description of which corresponds exactly to a light seen by my daughter and myself while sitting on the porch of our home in Old Conewago, Adams county, Pennsylvania. My first impression was that someone had come on the porch with a bright lamp.

Immediately my daughter Josephine exclaimed, 'Mother, see that beautiful light sailing over the treetops,' pointing at the same time in a southerly direction. The time was something after 9 o'clock. It traveled very rapidly from east to west and was lost to sight among the trees. I remarked that it must be some new device for celebrating the Fourth, but at the same time I said it was too bright and traveled too quickly to have been made by human hands.

OUR WAY

We go about the Shoe business in a way very different from other Shoe Stores.

Most stores that are not makers themselves buy SHOES that the manufacturers offer just as they are, or with very slight changes.

There are but few makers of whom we buy in this way. Some of our shoes we plan almost from the beginning. The reasons are these:

1. Some of the best looking shoes are not honest inside.
2. Some of the most honest made shoes don't fit the wants of the people.
3. We can save money—Yours and Ours—By bossing the making of our shoes.

CROPS AND STORMS IN OKLAHOMA

WHEAT AND HAY GROWN WITH LITTLE LABOR AND EXPENSE.

Storm of Hail Big as Turkey Eggs Weighing as Much as Twelve Ounces Vividly Described.

My former letters to you have told much of the dust and the long drought from which Oklahoma has suffered this season. But with the rains that came with the beginning of May all that has been changed. Nothing could be more delightful than the weather we are having now.

As soon as the first rains fell every growing thing turned green as if by magic and the whole land took on a different appearance. The despondent farmer began to cheer up, too. They ploughed up their ruined fields and replanted them with cotton, Kafir corn and other quick growing crops. Indeed I have heard some men say that this drought may in the end be a blessing to the country. Heretofore the farmers have depended almost entirely upon their wheat crops, because from it they could make a living with comparatively little work and with this they were content.

In fact they have imposed upon the good nature of the soil. Year after year they have put in the same crops, using no fertilizer, nor in any way trying to keep up the richness of the soil. Even the great straw stacks standing in the fields are burned to get them out of the way. I have noticed in a number of places that the wheat growing on the spot where a straw stack stood last year looked fairly well while in all other parts of the field it was quite dried up. This shows what might have been done had the straw been utilized instead of burned.

Hay is one of the easiest of all crops here, for it needs no work except the cutting. The prairie grass grows everywhere, tall and thick, a sure crop every year and one which needs no renewing. An occasional burning off is all that it requires.

It is surprising how quickly new land can be made ready for a crop of wheat. No matter how thick the prairie grass may be, if it is ploughed under this spring it will be ready for sowing with wheat in the fall. On the whole the farmer's work is much easier here than in the East, particularly if he raises only wheat and hay. Of course, if a man chooses he can add to his income by raising horses and cattle, and this some of the farmers do. Some, too, have planted large orchards and also quantities of small fruits of various kinds.

The cost of living is about the same, I think, as in the East. Rents are, perhaps, a little higher. In this town an eight roomed house rents for twenty dollars a month. The price of staple groceries is the same as in the East, but early fruits and vegetables are much cheaper. The latter begins to come up from Texas toward the end of March, at first they are a little high but the prices soon drop, and now all kinds of vegetables except green corn are on the market at summer prices.

This is a good country in which to lend money but a bad one in which to borrow it. Ten per cent. is the usual rate of interest on loans, but the banks often charge from twelve to twenty per cent.

I never before saw such violent rains as we have had here recently. Oklahoma does nothing by halves, and when it rains it rains furiously. Enough water can fall in half an hour to make great pools by the roadside for the next three or four days. These storms are always accompanied by thunder and lightning and high winds.

Everyone watches the gathering clouds and when these begin to roll together in great black masses and to sweep up over the sky, everybody scurries to the caves. It may or it may not be a cyclone but no one cares to take the chances, especially those who have had experiences in cyclones. These storms do not alarm me in the least, but my courage may be due to my ignorance of the matter, and therefore when other people go to caves I follow. Recently we took refuge in the cave twice within three days, one occasion being between twelve and one o'clock at night. We generally hear afterwards of there having been a destructive tornado at that time down in Indian Territory, or in Texas. These storms generally come after a day or two of very warm weather and they are generally followed by a drop in temperature of twenty or thirty degrees. Then there is no danger of another storm until the temperature rises again, so they say.

One might imagine that this is an uncomfortable region in which to live, owing to the constant danger, during the summer months of destructive storms, but it is not. Although there is a possibility of a cyclone arriving almost any day, yet this town in the fifteen years of its life has never been swept by one. A few have passed within five or six miles of the town but that is all. So you see, the chances of escaping the fury of the storm are very favorable.

I have sometimes heard of hail-storm stories in which the hail-stones were represented as being the size of hen's eggs, and I have always supposed that one needed to divide by two in order to get somewhere near the facts in the case. But since witnessing a hail-storm which visited this town recently, I am prepared to accept the biggest hail-stone story that anyone has to tell.

On a recent afternoon a violent thunder-storm came up pouring down torrents of rain, then for a quarter of an hour such hail as I never before imagined came down till the ground was covered. But it was not the quantity so much as the size of the hail-stones that made the storm so appalling. Hens' eggs were nothing to the size of the stones which came rattling down with such terrific force. There were plenty as big as turkey eggs and duck eggs, and occasionally there were some larger still. One of these last, an oval shaped stone, measured eleven inches in circumference, another was three and a half inches in diameter, and a third weighed twelve ounces. Some were quite smooth, others were covered with jagged points half an inch in length.

Down town horses broke away from the tie-posts and ran away maddened by the stinging pain of the pelting rocks. A man who grasped the bridle of a runaway horse received a blow on the back of his hand which tore it open. The hail went through roofing paper as though it were tissue, literally tearing the roofs to pieces. I saw a tin pail knocked over on its side and battered in as though it were paper.

But the gardens, they are a sight. Everything has grown so rapidly for the past month, potatoes were in blossom, blackberries and raspberries beginning to ripen and everything looking promising. Now the gardens are a total wreck. Everything is mowed down, torn and cut to pieces.

The apples and late peaches which escaped the frost were all knocked from the trees, leaves and branches are lying on the ground as they do after an autumn storm.

Were it not that all windows here are covered with wire screws from top to bottom, I think there would not be a house with a whole window pane on its west side. Such a storm as that was worth seeing, but I should not like to see very many. The destruction they cause is too great.

S. A. SPENCER.

The Sad Tale of a Hat

A story is told by the Chicago Inter-Ocean of a woman of that town, the wife of a minister, who has always had a liking for hats of the flower-bed variety. At present she owns a "dream" of a "sky piece" that is covered with violets. The pretty young wife wore this hat to a funeral recently, at which her husband officiated. Going into the room which contained the coffin, she removed the hat and placed it on a stand. The sad-faced sleek-haired undertaker came in a few minutes later to arrange the "floral tokens" on the coffin. After placing the bouquets, wreaths, pillows, broken wheels, anchors and the usual row of flowers in place he picked up the velvet-covered hat and tenderly placed it on top of all the rest. Several of the "mourners" giggled, and the minister's wife wanted to grab her hat and run. She had to let it alone, however, until the close of the ceremony. When she marched past the bier she lunged at the hat and successfully made her escape.

Dietrich Family Reunion.

The Dietrich family will hold their Reunion this year on Saturday, August 13th, in the noted pleasure ground at Kutztown, Pa. All the Dietrichs (the name is variously spelled) and relatives through inter-marriages, are urgently requested to be present. More than four hundred Dietrichs assembled at Lenhartsville, Pa., last year, and formed themselves into a permanent organization for the purpose of collecting information for the publication of a family history. The following officers were elected: Lawson G. Dietrich, Esq., Moselen Springs, President; William J. Dietrich, 1138 Chestnut St., Reading, Secretary; Daniel F. Dietrich, 325 Penn St., Reading, Treasurer. Besides the above named officers an Executive Committee, composed of representative businessmen, was elected, as well as a number of Assistant Secretaries.

During the year the Association collected considerable data. The Secretary states that he has nearly complete records of the ancestry of Johannes, Adam, John Ludwig, Elias, Conrad and John Jacob Dietrich. Each of these immigrants landed at Philadelphia prior to the Revolutionary War, in which a number of Dietrichs rendered valuable service. The Secretary also has fragments of history of a dozen or more immigrant ancestors.

Johann Christian Dietrich, who landed in New York in 1710, is the first immigrant of whom the Association has any record. Johannes Dietrich was the first immigrant to land at Philadelphia in 1781. The Penna. Archives give the names of fifty-four other Dietrichs who landed at the same port up to 1805.

The Association also is in possession of considerable history of the ancestry in Germany. The Dietrich family is an old one. They are prominently mentioned in the annals of the German Empire since the time of the Great Dietrich von Bern, 454-528 A. D., who was the King of the Ostrogoths. They are of the best blood of Germany and before the Reformation they were most powerful.

The Association acquired a copy and explanation of the family coat-of-arms, which is a pretty German design in the following six colors: Purple, gold, silver, red, green and black.

The Officers of the Association have arranged with the Keystone Lodge Company, of Reading, Pa., for the reproduction of the Family Coat-of-Arms in its exact design and colors in the form of a Souvenir Badge, consisting of a gilt bar and ribbon with suitable inscription, the Coat-of-Arms being reproduced on a celluloid medallion, 1 1/2 inches in diameter, surrounded by a neat gilt rim. A badge will be presented to each member of the Association attending the reunion.

The Dietrichs are very numerous throughout the length and breadth of this country. A great many live in this state and vicinity. This meeting or picnic will be exceedingly interesting. It will give one an opportunity to see and meet more Dietrichs than they ever met before.

Family charts of different ancestors will be on exhibition. Also rare old documents and certificates will be shown.

An excellent program is in the course of preparation. Prominent members of the family will make addresses and the popular Marine Band, of Allentown, Pa., will furnish music. The exercises will begin at 9:30 o'clock a. m., and continue during the day.

From information of Dietrichs from many of the States this Reunion will be very largely attended.

The Park at Kutztown is a modern and up-to-date place for festivities of this kind. First-class meals can be had reasonable at the Park Dining Room. Kutztown is accessible by steam and trolley cars, the latter leaving Reading and Allentown every 30 minutes for the Park.

THOUGHTS AND THINGS WITH A RINGING SONG OF THE TREE
AND ITS MESSAGE.

With Some Thoughts About Some Things Which Are Made From Trees—For Instance An Index Board.

THE SONG OF THE TREE.

Warm in the deep of the prison of sleep,
I lay in the womb of the earth
Till the spirit of God in the flagging sod Aroused my spirit to birth.

Then fed by the dew and the sun I grew
From sapling good to a tree,
As tall and as late and strong and as straight
As ever a tree should be.

So, robed in a sheen of shimmering green,
Bathed in the sunrise red,
My branches glisten, my little leaves listen
For secrets that never were said.

Though the sunshine glint and the west wind blow
And the raindrops murmur, I ween
Man never shall learn nor a tree discern
The intimate thing they mean.

Or straggled to the chill of the north wind's will
I stand in my strong bare bones;
I dance with the blast, as maddening past
The tempest in anguish moans.

With strife and song my spirit grows strong:
In the law of my being I grow
Till the lightning smite or the wind in its might
The growth of the years o'erthrow.

And when long I have lain in the sun and
the rain,
And the creeping things grow bolder,
And Earth, my mother, makes Dust, my brother,

As into the ground I molder,
Then out of my death shall rise the breath (of flowers of rainbow hues;
So welcome my life with its growth and its strife.

Then death be the life I choose! —Critic.

A tree is one of the grandest objects on earth. Something of the same kind has been said in this column before and it will bear repetition until time is no more. The tree itself, its birth, growth, life, trunk, branches, limbs,
twigs, leaves, shade, and the hundred and one things about the tree have not only their own story of scientific information, but the message and meaning to the human being can never be finished as long as there is a tree or man on earth. The ultimate thing the tree means can never be fully appreciated.

But the thing we had in mind when we began this was something made of the tree. Part of the tree which is planted in the ground but it never grows fast and on it is nailed boards.
It stands with outstretched bare arms.
It is the post and index board at the country cross roads pointing the way,
and while most useful, yet there is very little of good to be said for it as it exists in many parts of Adams County to-day. The index boards and posts maintained are a disgrace. Every Supervisor has funds in his hands, a portion of which he could annually set apart and appropriate for index boards
and he could be paid for his work in connection therewith, but any old thing goes for an index board and it must answer every purpose until it falls to the ground.

We have seen index boards in Cumberland township, Highland, Hamilton, Straban and other townships actually on their last legs. There are some index boards on Fairfield road that can't be read from conveyance in middle of road either with or without glasses. There is an index board on Ridge road that we could not read when we drove up to it and tried to read it and we are accustomed to be able to spell out print. There are numerous cases where the boards have been nailed on posts at angles with road that one wonders whether they were ever meant to be read. It ought to be as easy to put up an index board right as in any old way. After seeing some of the index boards we have wondered how often the constables of the townships have traveled the roads
in order to be able to make their returns to Court about the index boards.
Lots of returns must be made on faith.
What they don't see they don't know
and what they are never told about they know nothing of.

Perhaps there are lots of people who do not need index boards but then there are many more who appreciate the sight of them, especially when they are erected properly and are legible. The law directs them to be maintained and the supervisors have a fund

out of which to pay for their erection.
Why then are they not maintained properly instead of often just within the letter of the law.

This whole business of index boards
could stand revision in this county.
In the first place the court could make a rule of court requiring every road hereafter ordered to be opened to have a name. The petitioners for road or viewers laying out same could report
a name to be adopted. With a name to be indexed by it would be easier to find the record of the road at the Court House. Supervisors might name roads already laid out which have no names,
but we have plenty that have, State
road, Ridge road, Low Dutch road, Bullfrog road and so forth. It would add very much in many court proceedings to designate a road by a name of which there was a record, rather than by a road running from a road leading to another road, all of which is Greek to many.

If every road had a name, on every index board could appear first the name of road, then points it leads to with distances. A branching road would be designated by its name with other necessary data. In naming roads no fancy names would have to be used but the old familiar names of the county could be perpetuated. There are few roads in this county that do not cross some run, or go over some hill,
or through some woods with an old familiar name, which could be used to designate the road.

Just suppose roads were so named,
what a convenience it would be to the traveler of roads and with the dawning
of the horseless vehicle age roads are more traveled now than ever before.
The good roads movements and laws are only in their infancy. Nearly every farmer lives on a road and of a whole county a directory could be then made as easily as of a town or city. With roads named and you wanted to reach the house of Mr. So-and-so, the direction would be, say, by Emmitsburg road, by Middle creek road
and McKee's Hill road, instead of so many miles out, then turn to your right and so many more and turn to your left and keep on going until you get there.

This naming of roads could be started by an order of court requiring all new roads to be named and so placed on the index boards along the road. The matter of naming the roads could be urged upon constables and supervisors.
Perhaps a county convention of supervisors might be worked up and at it
some uniform plan of marking roads
could be agreed upon. It would cost but little money if this was all done
and a uniform index board erected.
Then there would not be the disgraceful way in which they are now maintained, a way which two lines of the above poem seems to epitomize, "And Earth, my mother, makes Dust, my brother. As into the ground I molder."

FIRST THRESHING ON JULY 5
Two Taverns, July 5.—Wm. J.
Collins and wife have returned from a four weeks trip to the World's Fair at St. Louis and visiting relatives, in Missouri, Illinois and Iowa, very much pleased with their trip and pronounce the Fair a great big success.

Prof. C. Ross Appier, of the Pottstown Schools, is visiting at his parents and friends, of Two Taverns, for a few days having recently graduated from Drexel Institute, Phila., in the department of Commerce and Finance.

Milton Snyder and Samuel A.
Wherley have each repainted their barns and out buildings, at Two Taverns, making quite an improvement to their properties.

Harvesting is well under way and now the threshing machine is abroad
in the land. Milton Snyder began July 5th to thresh for J. E.
Appier.

Cherries are plentiful and prospects
are for a fine crop of plums but peaches
will be very scarce in this locality.

BLOOD POISONING FROM INJURY.
Germany twp. July 8.—John Urich lost a valuable male by death one day last week.

Frank Keith, residing on the Kuhn
farm, is particularly unfortunate in that an injury to his hand has resulted in blood poisoning and Mrs. Keith fell from a wagon sustaining several severe bruises.

J. W. Eby formerly of Eby's Mills
in Mountjoy township but now of Baltimore city is in this vicinity harvesting. If many of the other city chaps who desire an outing for their health could emulate this example the harvest hand problem would be solved.

L. E. Henry, a student at the Theological Seminary at Gettysburg, who is employed as field worker by the State Sunday School Association of which Hon. John Wanamaker is president, has been working in this section

last week. As a result there will be a Sunday School convention held at the Two Taverns on Friday evening, July 15th.

EXTRACTS FROM JAPAN LETTER
Absence of American Nurses Preferable to Presence

A letter recently sent to Adams Co., from Japan makes the following interesting statements.

"Dr. McGee and a party of Red Cross nurses have arrived to help nurse the wounded soldiers. The Japanese papers speak in glowing terms of the sympathy thus expressed. But the Japanese 'Mail,' the leading English
daily says 'It is impossible not to admire the fine spirit shown by these ladies in coming to a far distant country on an errand of humanity. But we do not entertain similar respect for their discernment. They ought to comprehend that valuable as their services may be, the inconvenience and embarrassment connected with their presence on the field more than outweighs the importance of any aid they can give. That they have no means of making themselves intelligible either
to their patients or their fellow nurses, except through the medium of an interpreter is an impediment sufficient in itself to militate almost fatally against their usefulness. But when we all know that their mode of life being totally different from that of the Japanese nurses, a special commissariat and special conveniences have to be provided for them it becomes at once evident ungracious as the statement must seem, that on the whole their absence would be preferable to their presence.'

"The war seems to interfere very little with our work or our lives. We see some stir of it at Tokyo, but less than one would imagine. Things are kept very quiet."

WESTERN MARYLAND RAILROAD.
Presbyterian Reunion at Pen-Mar

The Presbyterians of Maryland and Pennsylvania will hold a grand Reunion at Pen-Mar Park, on the Western Maryland R. R., on Thursday, July 14th. At 3 p. m. a great Reunion Programme will be held in the large Auditorium seating over 3,000 people, and music and speaking of the most interesting character will be rendered. It is expected that this will be a great rally day for the Presbyterians.

Low rate excursion tickets will be on sale to Pen-Mar and full information can be obtained from local ticket agents.

40,000 Bushels of Wheat on the Ground
The prairie elevator rearing its ungainly form from beside the tracks
had no capacity commensurate with the demands upon it.

"Sorry, sorry, boys," was the manager's greeting. "We can't get cars
enough, and th' elevator's full to th'
top. You c'n do like th' others an'
dump it on th' ground out th' if ye want to—that's th' best I c'n do."

They did it. Out on a clean piece of buffalo grass they found forty thousand bushels of the red-brown grain, a drift of wheat, the overflowing largess of Nature's bounty. It would lie in the sunshine of late summer and early autumn, unharmed. None could steal it, and there was little likelihood of rain to do it injury.—From "Journey-With Harvesters," by C. M. Harger, in the July "Scribner's."

Making Fruits.
There are few topics more interesting
to the agriculturist and fruit-grower
than the question of plant breeding.
Some recent experiments in crossing oranges and other citrus fruits made under government auspices have proved very successful. Not only have fruits with new flavors been the result,
but the trees themselves will be able to exist in more northern latitudes.
The whole matter is fully described and illustrated by H. Gilson Gardner in the July "Cosmopolitan."

A SUSTAINING DIET.—The cure the energizing days, when, as somebody has said, men drop by the sun-stroke
as if the Day of Fire had dawned.
They are fraught with danger to people whose systems are poorly sustained;
and this leads us to say, in the interest
of the less robust of our readers,
that the full effect of Hood's Sarsaparilla is such as to suggest the propriety of calling this medicine something besides a blood purifier and tonic.—say,
a sustaining diet. It makes it much easier to bear the heat, assures refreshing sleep, and will without any doubt avert much sickness at this time of year.

over. You are not compelled to elect in advance. The certificate is written as before indicated.

We become surety for administrators and others and go on all Court bonds.
We are prepared to act as guardian,
executor, administrator or trustee in any case. Prompt settlements and business methods will characterize our administration of all trusts. Trust funds are invested in real estate securities the very day they are received by us, and settlement will be made immediately on the termination of the trust.

Not a dollar of trust funds has ever been lost through the failure of a trust company in Pennsylvania.

Wills are written free of charge and preserved in our safe when this company is named as executor.

SAVINGS DEPARTMENT.
We have received another large supply of safes for our savings department.
We hold the key and give you the safe
on receipt of one dollar which is returned at any time on return of the safe in good condition. We open the safe when you desire and issue a three per cent., certi-

Base Ball

The Gettysburg team played the Hanover team on last Friday. Though Kauffman was in the box and good ball was played visitors made three runs in last inning and won by score of 3 to 2.

On Saturday the New Oxford team went up against the Gettysburg team on Nixon Field. The battery of home team was John Wisotzky and Robbin Wolf, and of visitors Christie Lawrence and F. Cashman and the latter were done up by the score of 8 to 1.

Trolley Car Accident

Geo. L. Rice Jr. son of Dr. Geo. L. Rice of McSherrystown met with an accident on the Hanover and McSherrystown trolley by which the middle finger of his left hand was broken and he sustained several severe bruises. He was aboard an open trolley coming to Hanover, and owing to the crowded condition of the car was standing on the side. When turning into McSherrystown Avenue from High Street extended the young man was struck by a telephone or trolley pole, a number of which are exceedingly close to the track at this point, and knocked from the car, falling down the embankment to the W. M. Railroad track, which runs parallel with the trolley along this street.

The Fourth at Bonneville

The people in and around Bonneville amused themselves in part on July 4th, by sending up balloons, two of the balloons were sent up at the home of Mrs. P. Smith, two at Mrs. Mary Long's and two at J. J. Staub's store, Bonneville. Each of them had cards attached. The finder of these cards will kindly send them to the addresses given thereon and receive a reward for each one; also stating where and at what time they were found.

Talk of Trolley at Monterey

There is a movement on foot to have the Chambersburg, Greencastle and Waynesboro Trolley Co. extend the run from Pen-Mar to Highfield and Monterey. It is said people in the mountain have offered rights of way free. The way would not be by public roads but by an easy grade to Highfield and then across lots to Monterey, a distance of about 2-1/2 miles and it is believed that a branch could be built without much outlay and no additional equipment in cars or power would be needed to operate it.

The Fidelity & Casualty Co. has been doing business for past 28 years, has been represented at Gettysburg by Martin Winter for past 10 years. The surplus for protection of policy-holders is $663,794.00, losses paid to policy holders in 1903 $1,813,758.00. This company insures against accident and sickness, the rates are practically no higher than in companies with little or no financial backing and some of which have scarcely been in existence one year. When insuring why not get the best—something more than plausible talk and promises are required to make the best—experience, fair-dealing and financial backing on the part of the company make the best. j13 4-t

Clearing Decks of Wool Dress Goods

THIS IS THE WAY

It is perfectly natural that advertising statements of sacrificing prices on merchandise should be taken with some incredulity. Merchants do not wish to pose as philanthropists in this sense and therefore it is a little hard to believe that Seasonable Goods are to be sold at less than cost of making. Sometimes, but—if you were behind the scenes you would probably realize the necessity for price sacrifices to clean stock towards the end of a season so as to be able to count actual profits on the season's business.

We have gone over our immense Dress Goods stock and culled several hundred yards of "left overs" which we cannot take chances on in selling in the regular way at the regular prices so

DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT OF UNITED STATES

of New York.

HENRY G. DAVIS
of West Virginia.

DEMOCRATIC STATE TICKET.

FOR JUDGE OF SUPREME COURT

SAMUEL GUSTINE THOMPSON
of Philadelphia.

ST. LOUIS CONVENTION.

The American people ought to be able to appreciate the difference between the Chicago convention that nominated Roosevelt and the one that nominated Judge Alton B. Parker. The one at Chicago was a rehearsal. It was a one man affair. Roosevelt had dictated his own nomination, had selected his running mate, had chosen those who should place him in nomination, everything had been arranged according to the orders of one man and the convention did not reflect in a single particular that it was the work of the Republican masses. They simply put through the whole thing like a printed program. But a convention of Democracy, by the people, is entirely different. There has been nothing out and dried at St. Louis. Differing opinions found vigorous expression and it was impossible to predict in advance the ultimate decision of the convention on any important matter. A majority of the delegates favored the nominee but a determined minority supported another. The character of any convention of the people must be such as the St. Louis convention has been. It is a free expression upon points of principle and choice of candidates and after the convention there follows a harmonious and united effort to elect the candidate on the platform adopted. Such was the character of convention that nominated Cleveland for the first time. It is good for the party and nation to let every one have their say and then bow to the will of the majority of the people.

THE PLATFORM.

Democracy has been given a wholesome and sane platform upon which to go to the people for their support in the fall election. There is no uncertain sound in it from beginning to end. A revision and a gradual reduction of the tariff is favored, a tariff limited to the needs of the government, economically administered and so levied as not to discriminate against any industry, class or section. A strict enforcement of all laws against trusts, combination and monopolies is demanded as well as the enactment of further legislation to effectually suppress them. The platform voices the universal American criticism of the Roosevelt administration in favoring the nomination and election of a President who will set his face sternly against executive usurpation of legislation and judicial functions and in condemning it for being spasmodic, erratic, sensational, spectacular and arbitrary. Upon these latter points the sober sense of the American people ought to be able to unite and retire Roosevelt as unsafe to be at the head of this great country.

EDITORIAL HOTCH-POTCH.

The "Carlisle Pointer" says, and every Democrat can join in the saying, "There is no reason in the world why the Democrats of Adams and Fulton Counties should not present an acceptable candidate for President Judge when the Adams county Bar has such able lawyers as ex-Congressman Geo. Benner, Charles S. Duncan and William McSherry. Either one of them would make a good Judge, and a credit to the party and to the Bar. Go slow, gentlemen, and give the voters of the Adams-Fulton district a clean man to head the ticket, and you are a sure winner in November."

Col. W. L. Moser, the prominent Fulton county citizen who some weeks ago had a horse killed under him by a bolt of lightning while he miraculously escaped, believes in the county newspaper, says it is the duty of every citizen to stand by his home papers and he backs up his belief by being a paid subscriber in advance of every paper published in his county.

KIND words for the new Compiler have been numerous and highly appreciated. The "Jeffersonian" of Littlestown said: "The Gettysburg Compiler, the best exponent of the principles of Thomas Jefferson and Andrew Jackson, has come out in a handsome change of raiment that is a credit to the editor and manager, Wm. Arch. McClean, Esq., and the Democratic party of Adams county as well. It has doffed its 4 page 9 column habiliments and donned the metropolitan style. Typographically it is clean and tasty and matter in type gives evidence of much care in gathering and recording of the 'home' news. We sincerely wish Mr. McClean and his improved paper many years of prosperity and public usefulness.

The New Oxford "Item" said: "The old GETTYSBURG COMPILER comes out a new COMPILER, new type, new forms, etc. The make-up of the paper has been changed from the old style blanket sheet to a six column eight page paper—a decided improvement, and reflects great credit on its management."

The York Springs "Comet" said: "The GETTYSBURG COMPILER, Adams County's oldest newspaper, appeared this week in greatly changed and enlarged form—12 pages printed on extra quality paper and filled with local and general news. Our best wishes for prosperity are extended."

The Mercersburg "Journal" sent us this: "The GETTYSBURG COMPILER comes to us much enlarged and much improved. The COMPILER is one of our best exchanges and we are pleased to see this evidence of prosperity."

We are indebted to "The Evening Star" of Washington, D. C., for the loan of the half tone cuts of Rev. and Mrs. J. T. Huddle.

N. G. P. Contracts.

Contracts for supplies for the National Guard have been given out and Gettysburg is capturing a large share of same. Major & Slagle got contract for 3000 gallons of ice cream to the sutlers of the camp. The Hanover Produce Co. was awarded contract for ice at $195 per ton, delivered on car at camp. The contract was the lowest of four bids, two of them out of town. The Peoples Cash Store secured contract on their bid for 200 sacks of flour, 900 pounds of soap and 7000 pounds of potatoes.

Camping Parties.

A party from this place went into camp near Shifmansstown, Cumberland county, along the Conefoguin creek Thursday of last week to be gone for ten days. The members of the party were C. K. Gilbert, George E. Shields, J. Donald Swope, Melville T. Huber, C. A. Blocher, of this place and James Young of Mechanicsburg and Harry Young of Harrisburg. Theo. Homan attended to the cooking for the camp.

Dr. Henry Stewart and family are in camp at Witnerow's Dam.

July Lutheran Quarterly

The July number of the "Lutheran Quarterly" contains among others an article on "The Transcendent Import of Christianity" by Dr. M. Valentine. "How Can God Answer Prayer?" by Dr. Jacob A. Clutz, "The Unjust Steward" by Rev. M. Coover and "The Rise and Decline of Puritanism in New England" by Rev. J. Luther Sieber.

Guests of the Sheriff

The sheriff has received two new boarders within past week. Edward S. Nindel of Liberty Township was committed charged on oath of P. H. Riley with unlawfully entering his bed room and carrying away the sum of $30.

Gordon Stewart, colored was committed on a charge of assault and battery upon James W. McDowell policeman and resisting an officer. At the hearing there was an unsuccessful attempt to connect prisoner with robberies on Seminary Hill. The house of Dr. Singmaster was entered by a colored man and several pocketbooks taken, one belonging to a lady visitor. As the thief left the Singmaster house he found a bicycle in front of Thompson house and jumped on it. He was followed by a boy and at Chambersburg pike bicycle was demanded and he jumped off and fled.

Damage of a Big Cyclone

Shortly after noon of yesterday a cyclone swept over that portion of the Cumberland Valley in neighborhood of Barnitz Station, on Philadelphia & Reading Ry. Telegraph poles were overturned so that lines were put out of service. Several big barns were blown to pieces. Several cars on the railroad were turned over and much damage done. No lives were lost as far as could be learned.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

GETTYSBURG, PA., MAY 24, 1904

TO THE VOTERS OF ADAMS AND FULTON COUNTIES:

MY FELLOW DEMOCRATS:

Since very many of my friends have asked me to be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for President Judge of this District, it is due to you and to them that I make known my position in the matter.

It seems to me that a Judgeship should not be unduly sought; nor, unless for good reasons, be declined. It offered. No higher honor could come to me than to be called by the votes of my fellow citizens to preside as President Judge over the Courts of this Judicial District. If I am nominated I will gladly accept the nomination, and I will use every legal and honorable means to secure my election.

It will be a pleasure for me to meet you and to hear from you; and I trust you will counter with your delegates so that your wishes in the matter may be known and your nominee when named may be satisfactory to the majority of the voters. If I am nominated and elected I will discharge the duties of my office with fidelity.

Very truly yours,
WM. McSHERRY.

TO THE DEMOCRATIC VOTERS OF ADAMS AND FULTON COUNTIES.

The position of President Judge of this Judicial District is one that should be sought after honorably and fairly and if acquired should be filled impartially and justly. After repeated requests from my friends to be a candidate for this office I have decided to announce myself as such, subject to the decision of the Democratic Convention of Adams Co., and the Democratic Conference of this District. If nominated by the Adams County Convention I will use every honorable means to secure the District nomination and if successful in obtaining this, will exert every effort fairly and honorably to secure my election.

Yours very truly,
CHAS. S. DUNCAN.

TO THE DEMOCRATIC VOTERS OF ADAMS AND FULTON COUNTIES:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the Democratic nomination for the office of President Judge of the 51st Judicial District, composed of the Counties of Adams and Fulton. Subject to the decision of the Adams County Convention and the District Conference.

Cannon Cracker Accident

Littlestown had a fourth of July accident. William Cromer, an employee of P. R. R., in the dusk of evening picked up what he thought was a Roman candle but which turned out to be a cannon cracker and it exploded in his hand, bruising it to such an extent that it was swollen to an unusual size. The physician of R. R. company, Dr. Bishop of Hanover is in attendance.

TWO DEATHS ABOUT SAME HOUR

MRS. WM. F. LOTT IS SURVIVED BY HUSBAND AND ELEVEN CHILDREN

Wm. A. Kitzmiller of This Place Dies at the Age of Sixty Nine Years

Mrs. Hannah L. Lott, wife of Wm. F. Lott, died at her home in Highland township on last Thursday morning at about 7 o'clock. She was the oldest child of the late Wm. H. Wiernman, who lived for many years on the Chambersburg Pike, a short distance from this place.

During the last fifteen years Mrs. Lott has had rather poor health, but has been able to attend to household duties. But a month or more ago she had attended the funeral of a brother-in-law and apparently was in her usual health at the time. The final breaking down came afterwards and she was confined to her bed but three weeks. Her age was 61 years 5 months and 26 days. She had spent her whole life in Adams County except about ten months when family moved to North Carolina in 1871. The funeral took place on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. J. W. Woods conducting services, deceased having been a devoted member of the Presbyterian Church. Interment was in the Evergreen Cemetery.

Besides her husband she leaves eleven children, five girls and six boys, Lola and Bessie, stenographers, living in Philadelphia, Sarah, Martha and Grace at home, J. Albertus and Jacob in Oklahoma, Wm. C. Lott a recent graduate of College here, Walter, Frank and Charles at home. She is survived by four sisters and two brothers, Mrs. Sue Rebert of Cashtown, Mrs. R. Wm. Breann, Mrs. J. O. Blocher and Miss Alice Wiernman, Joseph and Wm. H. Wiernman of this place.

Wm. H. Kitzmiller

About the same hour on Thursday morning Wm. H. Kitzmiller, of this place, passed away at his home on Railroad Street, aged about 69 years. He had been failing for about a year, having cancer of the stomach and other complications. For many years he conducted pool and billiard room at different places in town, more recently in room to the rear of the Hotel Gettysburg.

He lived to see his family of one son and three daughters happily started on life's journey, Harry P. in a good business position in Philadelphia, Sarah, wife of Charles Troxel, and May, wife of Preston Tate, both of this place and the youngest daughter, Nannie but a few weeks ago was quietly married at her home to Uriah White, of Cape Charles, Va. He is also survived by a widow, oldest daughter of Robt. D. Armor of this place.

The funeral took place on Sunday with interment in the Evergreen Cemetery.

John L. Zimmers.

John L. Zimmers of Huntingdon township, died at his home Monday evening of last week aged about 63 years. Death was due to consumption, having been a sufferer for years from that dread disease and being prostrated during past three months. Deceased was born in Lancaster county, moved here and later married an Adams County lady. He was a prominent Democrat in his township and ably filled positions of school director and supervisor. Funeral took place on last Friday morning from his residence, services being conducted by Rev. P. M. Spangler, with interment in the Hampton Cemetery. He leaves a widow and two daughters Mrs. John Gable and Mrs. George Reinhecher, both living near York Springs.

Mrs. Elizabeth Frazier.

Mrs. Elizabeth Frazier, wife of Timothy P. Frazier, of New Oxford, died on Tuesday of last week at her home, after a lingering illness from consumption aged about 50 years. Her maiden name was Swope and was one of a family of fourteen children. Funeral took place on last Friday morning, Rev. S. P. Manger conducting services with interment in the New Oxford cemetery. Besides her husband she leaves to survive her one brother and three sisters, Jacob Swope of Missouri, Mrs. Isaac Pottoff, and Mrs. John Baschard of New Chester and Mrs. Louisa Seagrave of Nebraska.

Mrs. Lydia A. Johns.

Mrs. Lydia A. Johns, widow of the late John P. Johns, died at her home near Table Rock, on last Wednesday evening, of cancer, aged about 64 years. The funeral took place on Saturday morning from the house, the services being conducted by Rev. Wm. W. Hartman, of Gettysburg, with interment at the Salem Church grave yard. Mrs. John's maiden name was Stoner and she is survived by four brothers, I. S. Stoner of this place, Elias Stoner of Springfield, Ohio, Joseph G. Stoner of Williamsport, Pa., and John Stoner of Hanover.

Mrs. Sarah Ellen Rubenstein

Mrs. Sarah Ellen Rubenstein wife of Amos Rubenstein dropped over dead in her yard on Breckenridge street from heart disease aged about 45 years. Her maiden name was Arentz. She had been in poor health for some months having heart trouble but with it all was a hard worker, and all day Saturday was busy with her work. Funeral took place on Monday morning, Dr. J. A. Clutz, conducting the services, with interment in Evergreen Cemetery. She leaves besides husband seven small children.

Aloysius Marshall

On last Thursday morning Aloysius Marshall of Union township died from dysentery aged about 72 years. The funeral was held on Saturday morning, services being conducted in St. Aloysius Church, Littlestown, by Rev. Father Costigan of Bonneauville, with interment in the cemetery of the church. Deceased leaves one son and two daughters, Henry Marshall of McSherrystown and Misses Josephine and Sarah at home.

A Fight With Six Skunks Ends Their Early Career Though a Memory of Them Lingered

Biglerville, July 11.—Mr. John Kerr and family of Carlisle visited Mrs. Kerr's mother, Mrs. Sadie Kauffensperger of Penn St.

On Friday afternoon we had a heavy thunderstorm doing considerable damage to the highways and crops. While on Sunday afternoon we had another cloudburst which lasted about twenty minutes. But during that brief space of time the streams were filled to overflowing.

We have just been informed that on Friday evening while John Osborn, and two of his men who work for him on his saw mill, Andrew Lupp and a Mr. Marks of Heidlersburg, were driving to this place and just before reaching Peter Shetter's place, just east of town, Mr. Marks got out of the wagon to get some stones to do Mr. Shetter's dog, which it is said is in the habit of coming out on the road at them when they go by. It appears that when they reached the place Mr. Shetter was out. Some remarks were made to which Mr. Shetter replied. One word brought on another and the result was that Shetter was struck a blow back of the ear with a stone. It was some time before Shetter regained consciousness.

Captain Wm. Adams has returned from a visit to friends in Illinois and Iowa.

Wm. C. Millar who was a candidate for County Superintendent of schools some 18 years ago spent the week with his father of Penn street, Jacob B. Millar.

The Citizens band has closed a contract with Zion's Sunday school to furnish the music for their picnic and festival at Zion's church, Cumbrland Co., July 23, afternoon and evening. Our street improvements are progressing nicely about $2,000 have been spent in grading, etc., up to the present time.

Bream Bro's have placed an order with the Geiser people of Waynesboro for a new traction engine to run their thrashing rig.

The school board is having the school ground graded and making some other improvements to the property.

Mrs. A. H. Thomas who had a paralytic stroke several months ago we are sorry to state is in a bad condition, she requires constant care and watching. Neighbors and friends are doing what they can for the family in their sore affliction.

Henry G. Koser of New York who has been engaged with a theatrical company is visiting in town.

Samuel Spangler is confined to his bed with a complication of diseases.

J. W. Briggs and family and Wm. Spangler and family of Carlisle are visiting friends in town.

Miss Bredetta Eckenrode of Waynesboro, is visiting Miss Sallie Quikie and other friends in town.

John Deatrick had a royal battle with 6 skunks. The other morning John invaded the colony of skunks. The animals defended themselves with their usual odoriferous manner which soon spread over town. Guns, pistols, butcher knives, forks and kettles were used to end the skunks which was finally accomplished. You could easily tell when John was near even if you could not see him. You know the rest.

Quite a number of our people spent the 4th at Holly park.

P. C. Miller returned home with his bride from Bucks county on the evening of the 4th and was serenaded by the Citizens' band.

(Original.)

The tragic actress was sitting in her boudoir thinking of the wild enthusiasm she had excited in "Queen Mary"
the night before. Suddenly looking up, she saw a well dressed man standing in the doorway.

"I have not received your card, sir,"
she said in an offended tone. "How did you get up here without being announced?"

"I need no introduction, madam," replied the man. "I come from your Cousin Elizabeth. It is she who gives me access to you."

There was an unmistakable sign of insanity about the man, a glitter in the eye. She had once before encountered such a person, who had been much affected at seeing her perform,
and she suspected this might be a similar case.

"You were at the theater last night?"
she asked coolly.

"I was. I saw on the mimic stage the semblance of reality. I came to enact the real."

"In what capacity?"

"The principal part in the last act of the tragedy, the headman."

The woman shuddered. It was evident that this dethroned reason had been turned in the channel of murder.
But she controlled herself. Having from the first realized her danger and having a vague plan of saving herself
by humoring the man till she could summon help, she had assumed the tone of a queen.

"The headman! And what do you in the chamber of your victim? Your place is on the scaffold."

The man looked about him, as if on another scene. Was he on Tower hill, the magnates of England seated closely about the scaffold, beyond the commons, packed closely, with upturned faces, or was he within the narrow limits of a prison chamber? The woman studied his face and knew from his attitude that he was taking the pose depicted in pictures of the headman of the sixteenth century.

"We stand on the scaffold," he said,
looking at the floor, "and there," pointing to a foot rest, "is the block. Stand up that I may cut off your locks."

"It is customary," the woman stammered, "on such occasions for a warrant to be issued signed by the royal hand. Is this a legal execution or a judicial murder?"

"The warrant, madam, is in the hands of the sheriff. Come, let us proceed. The people are becoming clam-orous."

The actress was terror stricken. If she called for help it might precipitate matters. She could not escape because there was no other egress than that in which the man stood. Something must be done to turn the bent of his mind.
Presently, summoning all her resolution and assuming a bitter tone, she spoke again:

"Can it be that our liege lord, King Henry, is minded to bring us, his true
and faithful wife, to the block?"

"King Henry?"

"Yes, man; King Henry. And I his queen, Katherine." She rose and went on with tragic fervor:

"A woman (I dare say without vainglory)
Never yet branded with suspicion?
Have I with all my full affections
Still met the king? Loved him next heaven? Obedient him?"

Been out of fondness superstitious to him?
Almost forgot my prayers to content him?
And am I thus rewarded?"

While she spoke she fixed her eye upon that of the lunatic and threw all her soul into her part, her powers intensified by the knowledge that she was playing not to a crowded house
for fame and money, but to a single madman for her life. The man stood looking at her, a shadow of perplexity gathering on his brow. The actress continued:

"Pray, do my service to his majesty.
He has my heart yet and shall have my prayers
While I shall have my life."

"Madam," gasped the lunatic. "Are you not the queen of Scots?"

"I am queen of England."

"... I dare not make myself so guilty.
To give up willingly that noble title
Your master wed me to. Nothing but death
Shall e'er divorce my dignities."

The man saw before him a woman who was a queen and all a queen, but not the queen he wanted. In every word, every gesture, every step, the action impressed him: What was this that was befuddling his poor brain?
He was there to behead the queen of Scots, and he was listening to the plaints of the queen of England.

"Madam," he faltered, "your sufferings have turned your brain. You are not Katherine, queen of England, but Mary, queen of Scots."

Seeing her advantage, she pressed it.
Standing for a moment, her eyes fixed on his in silence, presently she advanced a step, then another, pointing her finger at him as some avenging spirit coming to her destruction. Then she spoke or rather hissed:

"Take heed, for heaven's sake take heed.
The burden of my sorrows fall at once upon ye."

There was the quintessence of vengeance in the woman's look. The man who had come to behead her quailed.
As she advanced a step he retired a step. All the while she held his eye with hers, and when she passed an electric button and, reaching back,
pressed it he did not see what she did.
She hoped that some one below would be stirring. She looked for some one to answer the bell. But at the moment no one was near at hand. She drove the man into the hall, downstairs, he occasionally turning to quail again under her glance, out into the street.
Then, coward that she was, she slammed the door and, staggering to a reception room, fainted dead away on a sofa. MARTHA LEE BURNES.

ARCTIC COLD AND ICINESS REIGN
FOR FOUR MONTHS.

Vladivostok Then Is Frozen Stiff, a World of Black and Deadly Frost.
The Way Frozen Food Is Displayed
In the Bazaar—Cost Sledge Racing.

Imagine a black world frozen stiff,
and that is Vladivostok in winter.
Wherever water once flowed, in bay
or harbor, a wide, gray white road now runs, and these are the only two colors
in a wide, still world. There are no trees. The large forests of which the old travelers wrote have long since been cut down for fuel, and the immediate hills behind the town are all as bare as a man's hand. Once behind these hills the endless rolling plain begins, which is Siberia, says Herbert Edwards in London Black and White.

Directly summer is over all the wealth of flowers which for five short months have simply riot in the land
go black, die out. The earth freezes stiff. Winter has come, and black and stiff the world remains. In Vladivostok there is little snow. Sometimes a gray dust, more like powdered ice than snow, blows over the land, but for the most part it is a black, not a white,
world of frost, and in its way it is more impressive. The earth freezes deep many feet down and is as hard as iron. The whole harbor turns a kind of dull gray. That, too, is frozen deep.
To keep any sort of channel open the powerful ice breaker has to go through its work twice a day. Twelve hours of an ordinary winter's day is often sufficient to block the passage. And all this in a town in the same parallel as Marseilles.

To those who have never experienced it real arctic cold is almost inconceivable. They cannot grasp the difference between 10 and 50 degrees of frost. It remains to them merely one of numbers. Indeed when once the winter has gone it is sometimes difficult to remember really how cold
it was, but during the four severe winter months themselves it is a very solid and serious fact. Every night
you go to sleep remembering, if you are new to such things, that a failure of the furnace which heats the house means death. You might wake first to know you were frozen or you might not. In the poorer houses the inhabitants sleep on the stoves, and the weak ones often die. Drunkenness here is often attended with a swift retribution, which does not in the least prevent it, and every day in winter people
are taken up frozen from the gutters,
the spirit which is in them only hastening the freezing, so that the carts
which are always sent round to pick up the sailors when the crews of the men-of-war are ashore have to do their work quickly. In the summer time, when there is not the same need for hurry, the men often lie about in gutters until the afternoon. The word
"gutters" is used simply to designate a certain part of the roadway. Gutters as such do not exist. The drunkenness among all classes of Russians is simply appalling. Officers think nothing of taking a tumbleful of raw whisky as a modest "bitters" before dinner.

When the wind is not blowing the cold is endurable, though five fur lined overcoats are not at all an extraordinary amount of winter wrap. You wear, of course, fur boots, fur gloves, fur caps. Women have their skirts and bodices lined with fur. Wildcat being both soft and very warm, is often used for this purpose. It is quite astonishing the partiality for such things as oily sardines that one develops.

In the winter time the bazaar is really a sight. Everything is frozen stiff.
The huge, long sturgeons from the interior stand in rows on their very sharp pointed noses. Baskets full of little fishes are piled together like chips of ice. Frozen birds hang down on long festoons, and the municipality is spared one trouble—it never has to make away with food "gone bad." The bazaar is almost entirely in the hands of the Chinese, the tall, dark, rough Chinese of the north, who live wrapped up in wadded cotton clothes until they look like bundles of bedding. Without the Chinese and the Japanese Vladivostok would find it hard to exist. They do all the work of the town. The Russians garrison and govern it. The Chinese, the Germans, the Japanese and the other nations trade in it.

The great sport of Vladivostok in the winter is sledge racing, and when once
the harbor is frozen over a proper course is marked off, and every one who owns a horse takes part. A Russian horse is a superior brute. He stands as high and looks as strong as a cart horse, but he goes like the wind.
He will walk or he will gallop, but he does not condescend to do anything between. His harness is weird and wonderful and very Russian, consisting primarily of a huge wooden half hoop
over the head, the keystone of the whole structure, which is attached to the shafts by winding long, thin straps backward and forward. It takes hours to put this on, is always liable to come undone and if undone is very dangerous. An English lady once danced to me with horror how she was taken for a drive in Vladivostok and the horse and carriage just went over everything—walls, banks or whatever came in the way. It is quite true, a Russian horse does, and if you have once driven behind one you are never nervous again. You are either killed or cured.

In Vladivostok you take your daily skate as your constitutional, and the most exciting thing to do is to skate along the coast—dangerous because shore ice is never quite trustworthy—
to Askold, which is an island on the northeast coast of Siberia.

MASSAGING THE SCALP.

It is the Root of All Systems of Stimulating the Hair's Growth.

The massage of the scalp is at the root of all treatment of the hair. By stimulating the flow of blood to the scalp new vigor is given to the hair.
Without this massage hair restoratives
are of little avail.

Now this massage may be better done
by a masseur than by the man or woman who is growing bald, but it is possible for that individual to massage
his own scalp well enough to do the hair a great deal of good.

The hands should be half folded and the ends of the fingers made to touch
the scalp lightly. Then rub them slowly over the scalp.

It is convenient to begin at the back of the neck and rub the scalp slowly
up the center of the head to the forehead. Then the rubbing should be done all over the head from one side of the scalp to the other. It should be repeated several times.

The same glow that the expensive
fingers of the masseur produce follows, showing that the circulation in the scalp has been stimulated. The fingers should be pressed on the scalp with sufficient force to cause the blood to tingle.

TIDAL WAVES.

The Forces Which Start These Dangerous Volumes of Water.

The ocean tidal wave—sometimes called the primitive—is formed by the union of two waves, produced by the combined attractions of the sun and the moon. This wave in its most dangerous form sometimes sweeps over ships in the open sea and in its ordinary course produces the tides proper.

Where the outline of the land, as in the bay of Fundy and the Bristol channel, compresses the force of its flood
with narrow estuaries it also gives rise to tidal waves, which are termed derivative and are also known colloquially as "bores," or eagres.

Earthquakes are also a cause of tidal waves of two sorts. One is due to shocks which occur on land and cause
a retreat and reflux of the sea within the usual tidal limits, but where an earthquake shakes the sea bed a dome shaped mound of water rises over the center of the disturbance and draws
the surrounding water into the vortex beneath it. As this dome subsides it sends an immense rolling mass swinging across the ocean, which creates a most formidable tidal wave.

THE SWEETEST ECHO.

It Answers a Call at a Tomb at Agra,
In Hindustan.

One of the finest echoes of which we have record is mentioned by Barthius,
in his notes on the Thebais of Statius.
This was on the banks of the Naha, between Colenz and Bingen, where an original sound was repeated seventeen times.

At Milan is an echo which reiterates
the report of a pistol from fifty to sixty times. In a cave of the Pantheon it is said that the guide, by flapping his coat, makes a noise equal to the report of a twelve pounder. Pliny speaks of a cave in Dalmatia where a stone tossed in would raise a perfect storm.

The sweetest echo in all the world answers a call at the side of the tomb
of Nur-Mahal dud Jehanghir, at Agra.
The guide raises the cry, "Great is God,
and Mohammed is his prophet—Allah!
Allah!" At first three distinct musical notes are heard in the echo, which reverberate round the dome and ascend
until they reach the smaller dome, where they reunite and escape from the temple as one tone.

A Feeble Imitator.

Albert Vandam, a French writer, gives this description of one of the leading republicans of Gambetta's
time: "Bizoin had a tendency to imitate the great Napoleon. He who had joined Lamartine in his vigorous protest against the removal of Napoleon's ashes from St. Helena to Paris struck Napoleonic attitudes at the camp
of Conlie when reviewing the troops
or the undisciplined, vroebecone masses, standing knee deep in mud, who were supposed to represent troops. He trud, up and down the lines with his hat behind him, then came to a sudden stop and, nodding his head, whispered (he had no voice), "Soldiers, I am pleased with you."

Unique Advertising.

Some of the Japanese tradesmen in the smaller towns of Nippon have a curious way of advertising their business. On their right forearms they tattoo figures—the shoemaker a shoe,
the woodcutter an ax, the butcher a cleaver. Underneath these emblems are such inscriptions as, "I do my work modestly and cheaply," or "I am as good at my trade as most of my fellows." When they are hunting work they bare their arms and walk about the streets.

His Greatest Sorrow.

Burt—I have no doubt you are sorry about your uncle's death, notwithstanding
it brought you into a lot of money.
West—Yes; he was doing a good business, you know, and if he had lived a year or two longer he might have left me a good deal more.—Boston Transcript.

Only on the Outside.

"Why, Ethel, you don't mean to tell me you want to marry that baldheaded Professor Wiseman?"
"It is true he is bald," said Ethel,
"but think how many young men of today are bald on the inside of their heads."

To Please, one must make up his mind to be taught many things which he already knows, by people who do not know them.—Chamfort.

ALL OVER THE COUNTY

KICKED ON HEAD BY MULE AND LIVES TO TELL THE TALE

About Cherry Pickers—It is Up To County Commissioners to Pay More Rental For Election Place

Roy Shetron, son of Addison Shetron has lived to tell the story of how it feels to be kicked by a mule. That it was a glancing kick is the only reason the boy is alive. He was leading a horse out of stable back of the mule, when the latter let his heels go and struck young Shetron on the head just above the right eye. The blow knocked him down and for two hours he was unconscious. Dr. C. L. Myers of York Springs gave necessary medical attention and reports indicate an early recovery.

As a cherry picker Mrs. Elizabeth Baugher of East Berlin deserves the prize. She is seventy nine years old but picked cherries from the tallest tree on a neighbors place.

A. B. Trimmer of East Berlin found in one of his fields in Washington township, York Co. a clover stock with 15 stems, 75 heads and measured four feet five inches. There must be many clover fields in this county from which stalks equally as large or larger could be taken. Some remarkable clover has been seen but heads and stems were not counted. If any one else has done so lets have the report.

Miss Carrie E. Smith has been re-elected teacher of the only school in the Hampton independent School District at a salary of $42.50 per month for term of seven months.

It is up to the County Commissioners! What? Whether elections should be hereafter held in the Abbottstown School House. The school board said no. 64 citizens asked them to reconsider their say, and the reply was if the County Commissioners pay $10 rental instead of $5, the house could be used, otherwise their no was final.

The School Directors of New Oxford have elected Miss Sadie Rice, of Gettysburg, to be teacher of School No. 2.

Robert McKenney the well known ball player, of McSherrystown, saved his life by wonderful self possession. He was drawing water at a pump when a rotten plank on pumpbed gave away, dropping him into the well. In his descent he caught hold of the pump and held on until he finally extricated himself.

Mrs. George Baker, of East Berlin, went to her husband's home, in Reading township last week to pick cherries. While going up ladder a misstep was made and she fell to the ground, and fractured small bone of one arm and dislocated wrist of same. Dr. Hoechst, of East Berlin, gave necessary attention.

A Friend's Advice.

Writing from Brushton, N. Y., Mr. Fred Brown says: I was troubled with indigestion or dyspepsia for about two years and could get no relief. I was advised by a friend to try Baxter's Mandrake Bitters, which I did, and before I had taken half a bottle I began to feel better. I am now enjoying the best of health and owe my thanks for it to Baxter's Mandrake Bitters. As a blood purifier, I think there is nothing better. I would as soon think of being without flour in the house as Baxter's Mandrake Bitters. Sold everywhere in liquid or tablets at 25 cents. L. M. Buehler.

The wife of Rev. P. M. Spangler of East Berlin is convalescent from a severe spell of sickness.

SAFEGUARD the children. Notwithstanding all that is done by boards of health and charitable inclined persons, the death rate among small children is very high during the hot weather of the summer months in the large cities. There is not probably one case of bowel complaint in a hundred, however, that could not be cured by the timely use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. For sale at Huber's Drug Store.

Now dead the sweet girl graduate. And her brother B. S. too. Go up against the hard old world In quest of aught to do.

GOOD SPIRITS. Good spirits don't all come from Kentucky. Their main source is the liver—and all the fine spirits ever made in the Blue Grass State could not remedy a bad liver or the hundred-and-one ill effects it produces. You can't have good spirits and a bad liver at the same time. Your liver must be in fine condition if you would feel buoyant, happy and hopeful, bright of eye, light of step, vigorous and successful in your pursuits. You can put your liver in fine condition by using Green's August Flower—the greatest of all medicines for the liver and stomach and a certain cure for dyspepsia or indigestion. It has been a favorite household remedy for over thirty-five years. August Flower will make your liver healthy and active and thus insure you a liberal supply of "good spirits." Trial size, 25c; regular bottles, 75c. At Huber's Drug Store.

ONE ladies recommendation sold fifty boxes of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets.—I have, I believe, sold fifty boxes of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets on the recommendation of one lady here, who first bought a box of them about a year ago. She never tires of telling her neighbors and friends about the good qualities of these tablets.—P. M. Shore Druggist, Rochester, Ind. The pleasant purgative effect of these Tablets makes them a favorite with ladies everywhere. For Sale at Huber's Drug Store.

THIEVES stole $15 from house of Wm. McCans near Guernsey on a recent night.

CHAMBERLAIN'S Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy—This remedy is certain to be needed in almost every home before the summer is over. It can always be depended upon even in the most severe and dangerous cases. It is especially valuable for summer disorders in children. It is pleasant to take and never fails to give prompt relief. Why not buy it now? It may save life. For Sale at Huber's Drug Store.

JOHN RIFE of Orrtanna was accidentally shot in the leg by a revolver in hands of his wife.

CURED OF Chronic Diarrhoea After Ten Years of Suffering.—"I wish to say a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Mrs. Mattie Burge, of Martinsville, Va. "I suffered from chronic diarrhoea for ten years and during that time tried various medicines without obtaining any permanent relief. Last summer one of my children was taken with cholera morbus, and I procured a bottle of this remedy. Only two doses were required to give her entire relief. I then decided to try the medicine myself, and did not use all of one bottle before I was well and I have never since been troubled with that complaint. One cannot say too much in favor of that wonderful medicine." This remedy is for sale by J. H. Huber.

THERE were 197 communicants present at the services of the East Berlin Lutheran Church on Sunday of last week.

BRUTALLY TORTURED—A case came to light that for persistent and unmerciful torture has perhaps never been equaled. Joe Golobick of Colusa, Calif., writes, "For 15 years I endured insufferable pain from Rheumatism and nothing relieved me though I tried everything known. I came across Electric Bitters and it's the greatest medicine on earth for that trouble. A few bottles of it completely relieved and cured me." Just as good for Liver and Kidney troubles and general debility. Only 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed by J. H. Huber Druggist.

BERT STAMBAUGH, living near East Berlin, whose cow was recently killed by lightning, was fortunate enough to have had her insured and received the full amount four days after loss of cow.

A STEVENSON STORY.

How the Great Writer Apostrophized Fortune.

When the late William Ernest Henley was editing "London," he had no one on his staff of writers whom he valued so highly as the young Scot, then unknown and poor, who wrote for "London" the brilliant series of stories that are now called the "New Arabian Nights."

Mr. Henley used to like to talk of "London" and his friend, Robert Louis Stevenson. He used to like to quote Stevenson's whimsical sayings. He said one day:

"Lewis and I the always called Stevenson Lewis; sat down one night to play the American game of poker. The luck from the start was with me. I won pot after pot. Lewis was lucky if any deal he got a pair of treys."

"Disgraced at last with the turn the cards had taken, he threw up his arms and apostrophized Fortune in this quaint way:

"Fortune, you fickle wench, it is true that you can make me lose, but you can never make me pay."

BRIDE CHANGES HER MIND

SHE WAS ENGAGED TO MARRY ONE MAN ON LAST SUNDAY

But on Tuesday Morning Before Went Off With and Married Another Man.

Littlestown had a part last week in the closing scene of a romance. The bride was Miss Elsie Spangler, the pretty daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Spangler of Germany township, and the groom was Robert Stover, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. P. Stover of Littlestown. The one who was prepared to be the groom, but who got left, was Claude Erb, whose home is near Taneytown but who has been working at his trade carpentering at York.

About a year ago Erb began his attentions to the bride and was finally accepted and all preparations were made for the wedding which was fixed for last Sunday. But while Erb was away working Stover began to pay attention to the bride and she finally decided she liked the latter best.

Her father did not approve and told Stover to stay away and insisted upon his daughter keeping the engagement with Erb. Recently the daughter went to Hanover to prepare the wedding garments.

This trip to Hanover gave the desired chance to Stover and the bride. Early last Tuesday morning the two drove from Hanover to Westminster and were married by the Rev. Miller of the Lutheran church about 8 o'clock in the morning. Later in the day they returned to Littlestown.

From this point word was sent to the parents of the bride of the marriage. To a letter from Erb telling that he had bought the wedding ring and his wedding suit, a letter was sent telling of the marriage to Stover and begging forgiveness.

MARRIAGES.

LIVELANDER-KLUCK—July 17, 1904, at Conowingo Chapel by Rev. Father Eugene Butlermeyer, Harry W. Liveland of Conowingo township, and Sadie Julia Kluck, of Littlestown.

WILKENT-CASSATT—July 17, 1904, at Gettysburg by Rev. D. W. Woods, Jr., Howard W. Wilkent and Blanche Cassatt both of Cumberland township.

DAY-TRUMP—July 17, at Dillsburg, by Rev. C. Benj. Segelken, Ira O. Day, of South Middleton Twp., Cumberland County, and Annie Trump of Lattimore Twp.

CHRONISTER-MILNER—July 18, by Rev. L. J. Milner, Basil Chronister and Elsie C. Miller both of Hamilton Twp.

Ready for the Guards

Camp Quay of the N. G. P. is about ready for the guards. It has been staked off and buildings have been erected. Tents at all the headquarters have been erected. As soon as the guards begin to arrive tents will go up by the hundreds. The gang in charge of the erection of poles and wire for the electric lighting of camp have been having full days of work but the greater part of work is done. The water pipes are down. The Western Maryland R. R. is putting the finishing touches on a switch near Reynolds' grove. The Governor's Troop reports here tomorrow for provost duty.

The first body to arrive was a hospital corps of 60 men from the Washington Barracks in charge of Lieutenants S. Gilchrist and Reynolds. They left Washington last Thursday walking the entire distance, bringing two wagons and one ambulance. They made about an average of 25 miles a day. They went into camp along the Emmitsburg road opposite the Y. They are here to give instructions in hospital service.

Col. James Regan, of the 9th Infantry, U. S. A., has been detailed by the War Dept. to attend the encampment.

The details for pitching tents and make camp will begin to report tomorrow and many will be on ground tomorrow evening and will continue to come Friday. The guards will be here in force on Saturday. The program during the week will be much like it was two years ago, the Governor reviewing on Thursday.

Locally all our merchants and business men have been preparing for the camp each with special lines for the occasion.

The business of sutler to the camp was offered to Penrose Myers and he formed a partnership with John Kimple and George A. Stock and they are making active preparations to be ready.

for the business. They will have two stands, one near Swartz house on Emmitsburg road and one near town. They are prepared with bananas, watermelons, sandwiches and ice cream, everything a soldier would eat, with soft drinks and souvenirs. Col. Richardson turned down the regular sutlers to give this to Gettysburg people. There will be dozens of other places outside camp lines to look after this same trade.

A mistake occurred in last week's issue in saying that Peoples Cash Store had contract to furnish guard 7000 lbs. potatoes. That would be but one day's rations in potatoes. It should have read 70,000 lbs.

Lutherans Against Divorc.

At the July session of the Lutheran Ministerium of York city and county, a paper on Divorce by Rev. Albert Bell was read and discussed. A motion prevailed that an overture be presented to the Western Pennsylvania Synod to prepare a deliverance on the subject and a committee was prepared to bring this about.

Case Discharged.

The case of the Com. vs. John P. Laughman of Berwick township, Adams county, charged with larceny, on information of Moses Runk, was heard before Squire V. H. Lilly, at McSherrystown, on last Saturday. After hearing the evidence the defendant was discharged.

New Statue

A beautiful life-sized statue of the Sacred Heart was placed in the sanctuary of the Church of the Immaculate Conception of New Oxford last week. The statue was imported from Italy and was presented to the church by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kaiser, of Mountpleasant township.

NEWS OF THE CHURCHES.

Services at Great Conowingo Church for Sunday July 24, as follows: 9.15 a. m., school for Bible study; 10 a. m., morning worship, subject of short sermon, "From Seed Time to Harvest;" 7 p. m., twilight services will be conducted by the Y. P. S. C. E. These meetings are everyone's.

On Sunday, July 24, there will be preaching by the pastor S. L. Rice at 10 a. m. at Granite Hill School House, and at night he will preach in Gettysburg at 8 p. m.

Cruel And Scalded to Death.

William A. Lantz of Harrisburg, brother of Prof. Harry Lantz of Preparatory Department, met with a horrible death on last Friday. He has been a fireman on the Pennsylvania R. R. for five years and on that day was on a shifting engine working in Central Iron and Steel Company's plant in Harrisburg when the engine was overturned and he fell under it only the head and right arm free. Exhaust pipes were broken and he was surrounded by escaping boiler water and steam. He shouted twice to the crew for help and then was silent. He was a noted athlete.

Carlisle gives this striking picture of Samuel Rogers the poet: "I saw Rogers awhile ago at dinner with Taylor, a half frozen, old, sardonic Whig gentleman; no hair at all, but one of the whitest bare scalps; blue eyes, shrewd, sad and cruel; toothless, horseshoe mouth drawn up to the very nose; slow, croaking, sarcastic insight, perfect breeding—staterooms where you are welcomed even with humility; internally a Bluebeard's chamber, where none but the proprietor enters."

Still One.

"Hello, Bill, old man! Well, well! I haven't seen you since the old days, when we used to run around together." "No, Jack. Ah, those old days! What a fool I used to be then!" "I tell you, I'm glad to see you. You haven't changed a bit, old man."—Philadelphia Press.

OLDEST LITTLESTOWN LADY DEAD

A BRIGHT AND INTERESTING TALKER UP TO TIME OF HER DEATH

Elmer W. Seiss of Littlestown Succumbs to Some Disease of the Brain in His Forty Third Year.—Other Deaths.

Mrs. Ann M. Livers.

Mrs. Ann M. Livers, widow of Joseph F. Livers, deceased, died last Wednesday evening at the home of her son-in-law, Dr. E. K. Foreman, in Littlestown at the great age of 94 years 4 months and 24 days. Death was due to the infirmities of age, though up to last sickness she had enjoyed good health. She was a great reader with a wonderfully retentive memory and was a most interesting conversationalist. She was the oldest woman in Littlestown. She was born near that town, the daughter of Levin Barner and her mother the daughter of John Shorb. In her childhood her parents removed to near Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, in which neighborhood she lived all her life except past eleven years. Her first husband was Joseph Brawner of which union there was no children. The second husband was Joseph F. Livers, who died about nine years ago, in Littlestown, and one daughter, Mrs. Dr. E. K. Foreman, of Littlestown, survives the deceased. The following step-children also survive, Joseph A. and James I. Livers, of Littlestown, Mrs. George Whorhan of near Emmitsburg, and Edwin G. Livers, of Bluffton, Ohio. The funeral took place on last Friday morning with services in St. Aloysius Catholic Church conducted by Rev. Father Kohl and interment in the Catholic Cemetery.

Elmer W. Seiss

Elmer W. Seiss, son of Dr. and Mrs. R. S. Seiss, of Littlestown, died on last Wednesday aged 42 years, 4 months and 20 days. He had been a telegraph operator in the employ of the Western Union Company for many years and was considered an unusually speedy and correct operator. His health broke down about a year ago with some disease of the brain. He had been working for the company in a number of Southern Cities but when his health became affected moved to Littlestown. The funeral took place on Friday morning, Rev. C. P. Bastian and Rev. Dr. W. E. Krebs conducting services, with interment in Mt. Carmel Cemetery, Littlestown. He leaves a wife, who was a Miss Battle, of Birmingham, Ala., two sons and one daughter, Raymond, Harvey and Marion and besides his parents, one brother, Dr. Frank Seiss, of Taneytown.

Dr. Wm. Zinn.

Dr. Wm. Zinn after a month of great suffering from gangrene died at Gardner's Station and was buried at Harrisburg. The foot effected with the disease was amputated and following day death came. He had moved to Gardner's Station in April, having been born in Churchtown, Cumberland Co., and spent greater part of his life in that county, teaching school and practicing dentistry. He had practiced his profession in this county though not a resident. He was a veteran of the civil war, a member of Co. F, 130th Pa. Regt. and in the nine months service was wounded in hip and cheek. Later in three years service he won promotion to a captaincy. He was twice married, the second wife surviving with three children by first wife, Frank H. Zinn, of Harrisburg, Mrs. Elsie Reese, of Harrisburg and Mrs. Mable L. Garrett, of Steelton.

Mrs. Catharine Stoffer

Mrs. Catharine Stoffer, wife of Adam Stoffer died at home of her daughter Mrs. Clara Burkholder, at Bradford, Pa., on June 29, aged 81 years. She had been a resident of Huntington township all her life until three years ago when she and her husband moved to Bradford. Death was due to infirmities of age. She was buried in Bradford, six grand-sons acting as pallbearers. She leaves besides her husband, three sons and four daughters, W. A. Stoffer of Huntington township, John Stoffer, of Butler, Pa., Samuel Stoffer and Mrs. Clara Burkholder, of Bradford, Mrs. Lizzie Clouser, of Harrisburg, Mrs. Emma Eichelberger, of Springfield, Ohio, and Mrs. Rachel Menges, of Huntington township.

Abraham Rife

Abraham Rife, a well known and influential citizen of Mountpleasant township for many years and for the last three years an invalid, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. S.

Schroder, in this place yesterday morning aged 84 years, 9 months and 14 days. From the infirmities of age he had been bed-ridden and heart failure was immediate cause of death. Mr. Rife was one of the most successful farmers in his township and owned one of its finest farms and was always a staunch Democrat. He was twice married, first to Mary J. Kindig, then to Angeline Forney. The latter died about four years ago and after remaining on farm a short time he removed to his daughter's home, where he has since lived. Funeral will take place on Friday with interment at Hanover. He is survived by two children, a son, Cornelius Rife of Harrisonville, Va., and Mrs. Helen Schroder of this place.

Alfred F. Schriver.

Alfred F. Schriver died yesterday morning at his home in Straban township from the effects of paralytic strokes and the infirmities of age, aged 69 years, 2 months and 10 days. He was born in Straban township, lived there his whole life, was one of its influential and best citizens, respected by every one who knew him. He was a successful farmer, having purchased his home farm about twenty-five years ago. He was an earnest supporter of Democratic principles at all times. Funeral will be held to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock. Dr. T. J. Barkley is expected to be here to conduct the services and interment will be in the Evergreen Cemetery. The pallbearers will be Greenberry W. Weaver, Alfred Rinehart, George Grove, John C. Taylor, Truman Grove and Luther D. Sowers. He married Margaret J. Thoman, who survives him with two sons, Frank D. of Straban township and Harry T. of this place.

Daniel Laughman.

Daniel Laughman, of Berwick township, this county, died on last Saturday, July 16, of dropsy, aged 69 years. He is survived by his wife and several children. The funeral was held at 8.30 a. m. Monday. Services and interment at Hartman's meeting house, near East Berlin. Rev. Daniel Baker conducted the services.

As to Rev. M. Coover's Resignation.

The following are resolutions passed by the Council of College Church on the resignation of Mr. Coover:

Resolved, 1st, That the Council of Christ Lutheran Church, hears of the resignation of its pastor, the Rev. M. Coover, with sincere regret.

Resolved, 2d, That in view of the weighty reason offered for his resignation, viz: his election to the chair of English Bible in Pennsylvania College, we feel it our duty to accept his resignation.

Resolved, 3d, That for ourselves individually, and as the representatives of our congregation, we desire to bear witness to Mr. Coover's faithfulness and helpfulness as our pastor, and we agree to the separation with great reluctance. Moreover, we wish also to record our gratitude that we have enjoyed the services of a pastor whose conspicuous scholarship has made him highly deserving of the professorship to which he has been called. Our thankfulness for his services and our best wishes for his future welfare accompany him.

Nervy Engineer Saves Train

Engineer Bailey, well known here, was largely instrumental in preventing what might have been a serious wreck. A passenger train on the Hunters Run and Slate Belt railroad ran into an open switch last Friday afternoon. While other trainmen jumped Engineer Bailey stuck to his post and left undone to bring the train to a stop. Passengers were thrown from their seats and escaped with a few bruises.

Splashed Scalding Water in Face

Mrs. John Adams of Edge Grove, while washing last week, emptied a vessel of boiling water into a tub and her hand slipped and the scalding water splashed into the tub and flew up into her face blistering and scalding it in a very ugly way. Dr. Sheetz, of New Oxford, is in attendance.

Trouble From Bruising Hand.

John Krug of Oxford township, struck the back of his hand while working about his binder. The wound at first was slight and little attention paid to it. Later hand became greatly swollen and blood poisoning was feared but is improving now.

Another Fire Escape

The owner of the Central Hotel in this place erected last week a fire escape to the hotel, locating it in the alley. It is of the latest and most approved pattern.

SLIGHT FIRE AT WATER PLANT

THROUGH CRACK IN BOILER WALL HEAT SET FIRE TO DOOR FRAME

There Should be no Waste of Water Next Week When Demand Will be Four Times the Usual Amount.

There was a slight fire at the water plant at Marsh Creek on last Friday evening. It might have been serious but as it was only a door frame was charred. The fire in the boiler had been banked for the night and everything fixed in usual way. The boiler is walled up with brick and rear end of the wall touched the jam of the door. In the drying out of the brick wall there developed a crack which could not be seen. The heat used this crevice as a flue and poured through this crack and lodged against door frame. As Edward Sachs and companion returned from creek on Friday evening they saw smoke about door and hurried to house and informed John Sachs who rushed to plant and with a bucket of water put out smoldering fire. It was one of those unforeseen accidents which luckily occurred and was discovered before the great demands of encampment week were upon the plant, when it will have to run day and night.

It would be well for all our citizens to appreciate the task asked of the water plant during encampment. Instead of supplying 8500 people it will be called upon to supply four times that number not counting the many excursionists. Seven miles of pipe have been put down. There is plenty of water for all but every one should be careful of waste next week for their might be emergencies, which we all hope they will not be, but which might make water a precious article.

There is very little about the plant that is of an inflammable character, door frames, window frames, rafters and sheeting of roof, building being stone with slate roof. The plant is equipped with duplicate machinery so that if anything goes wrong with one set the other can be used. The plant is in excellent shape to meet the demands of next week.

Five Opinions of Judge Swope.

Judge Swope filed yesterday five opinions in matters argued at the June Argument Court.

In the exceptions to Auditors' report in estate of George A. Shank, deceased, the court gives additional reasons for the confirmation of report of Auditor, sustaining the surcharge of part of bill of Dr. Spatz and also the surcharge of judgment of $115.

The case of The International Correspondent School now for the use of International Text Book company vs. C. W. Bucher, leave was granted to change name of plaintiff company as requested but the request to change the cause of action from assumption to trespass was refused.

In case of Sarah Yengst, vs. Fillmore Peters, motion for judgment in favor of plaintiff for costs because judgment returned verdict for the defendant, defendant Fillmore Peters to return to plaintiff nine bushels of wheat was refused, the court holding that latter part of verdict was surplusage.

In case of Charles B. Schwartz, Administrator of Mrs. Charles B. Schwartz, dec'd., vs. H. Augustus Johns defendant and S. L. Johns garnishee, the motion for new trial refused, the verdict of $1,000 against garnishee stands and Court says under the evidence in this case, consisting of the voluntary admissions of the garnishee, he is certainly in no position to complain of the form and character of the verdict.

In case of J. O. Snyder, endorsee, vs. Mrs. Edw. H. Epler and Edw. H. Epler, makers, the Court held that contract having been made in Maryland, the law of that state would control right of recovery against a married woman, hence judgment was entered in favor of plaintiff and against defendants for $102.50.

Thrown From Buggy

While driving from Abbottstown to Hanover last Wednesday the horse attached to a buggy containing Mr. and Mrs. John Hoffman, of Abbottstown, was scared by a dog, when nearing Hanover, and by a sudden jolt Mrs. Hoffman was thrown from the buggy. She luckily escaped with a few scratches about the face and hands, and bruises on the back. Mr. Hoffman soon controlled the horse without any damage.

Hanover Trolley Accident

While David Bowers, his wife and little son, of near Bollinger's mill, in Union township, this county, were driving out Carlisle street, Hanover, last Saturday evening, the horse became frightened at a trolley car packed with passengers on the way to Eichelberger Park. The horse backed against the car, which had been brought to a standstill, and the two wheels on the left side of the buggy were demolished, throwing all three of the occupants to the street. Although nobody was injured, the accident created much excitement. Mr. Bowers procured another buggy and proceeded on his way home.

Removals to County Home.

There have been two removals to County Home recently, one being Mrs. Mary Haldeman of New Oxford. Some weeks ago she fell down a flight of stairs causing slight concussion of the brain and injury to the spine. She has been a great sufferer besides for years from cancer in the left breast. She lived alone and her neighbors and friends concluded it would be best for her to go to the county home to get the care and treatment she should have and was brought here last Thursday.

The week prior Daniel Duffy of Conowingo township had been removed to county home. For forty years Mr. Duffy was a railroad but on account of bad health had to quit and has been working at day labor since. Last fall he was taken ill and has not been able to work since. He was born in Ireland.

A Bold Attempt at Robbery

The house of Mrs. Mary E. Dougherty on the Emmitsburg road, just beyond borough limits was entered by a bold robber one night last week. Her son returned home about ten o'clock and shortly after going to his room heard a noise down stairs. He crossed the upper hall into his brother-in-laws room, Geo. Hughes, but found him in bed. Returning to upper hall he found the robber had heard his movements and was getting out of house as fast as he could go. Mr. Dougherty saw the light carried but was unable to get a good view of the intruder.

A Bloody Fight.

A bloody fight was indulged in by two workmen of the Gettysburg Transit Company on last Saturday evening, near power house. There was a dispute between Charles Baker foreman of a gang of workmen engaged on recent improvements, and Charles Breckinridge, one of the gang. Blows followed words and in the end rocks and bricks were thrown with the result that both men had punctured skins and blood freely flowed. Both men had recovered sufficiently from the mix up to be about next day.

Ran Nail in Hi Fool.

Nicholas Lingg, millwright, of New Oxford, is in Virginia overseeing the placing of new machinery in a large mill and while at this work stepped on an upturned nail, which penetrated the foot to a considerable depth. The physician in attendance succeeded in preventing blood poisoning and the latest reports indicate that Mr. Lingg is able to go about on crutches and attend to his work.

An Acrobatic Steer.

A steer belonging to Harry Keller of Littlestown, one night last week jumped through a ventilator four feet from ground and measuring fourteen inches in width by thirty-six inches high. The animal weighed 1200 pounds. It was captured next day several miles from Littlestown.

Base Ball News.

Base ball has not been strictly on the quiet of late. Last Wednesday the colored Athletics of this place met a Hagerstown colored team. Megaphones were not in it for rooting. The colored audience, men and women, rooted from beginning to end to beat a band. The home battery of Carter and Carter did the visitors up in great style by score of 2 to 1.

Picnics.

The annual Conowingo picnic took place yesterday many attended from this place and it attracted the usual large crowd.

The 20th annual picnic of St. Francis Xavier Church will be held August 10th, at Rosenteel's Park. There will be music by G. A. R. Band, the usual refreshments and amusements.

CARRIAGE and buggy for sale. Inquire of Dr. J. W. C. O'Neal.

OLDEST MAN IN FRANKLIN TWP. DEAD

DAVID STOVER REACHED THE GREAT AGE OF NINETY TWO YEARS

Geo. Lawver Fell From a Walnut Tree While Sawing Off Limb and Broke Several Ribs His Wife in Bed With a Broken Limb

Cashtown July 12.—Geo. Lawver above (Cashtown last Saturday morning) got on a walnut tree to saw off some limbs and in some way he slipped and fell to the ground, and broke several ribs, and is confined in bed. Some time ago his wife fell and broke a limb, they are two old people living alone, and now both confined in bed is very distressing and especially this season of the year.

Allen T. Orner who moved with his family to Altoona last fall has moved back on account of the dullness of times. Charles Forest who was at the same place has also returned.

David Stover an aged and respected citizen of Cashtown died on last Tuesday morning from infirmities of old age, aged 92 years 5 months and 3 days. He was the oldest person in Franklin Twp. his wife died 7 years ago. He leaves two children Geo. W. and Lucinda married to Jacob Walter of near Orrtanna. he was buried at Flohr's Church the funeral was conducted by Rev. D. T. Koser of Arendtsville, his pastor.

We had a very heavy rain here on last Friday evening doing a great deal of damage to the corn fields.

The Farmers in this community are not half through cutting wheat, on account of the wet weather the corn is growing nicely, and the potato crop promises to be a big one, but too much rain may cause them to rot.

Mrs. Clarence Heiges formerly from Cashtown but now from New Durham N. J. is visiting her parents and others in this neighborhood.

VISITING AROUND IRON SPRINGS

Iron Springs July 12.—Mrs. E. W. Harbaugh from Orrtanna recently visited her granddaughter Lola and Gifford Hummelbaugh.

Mrs. Cora Martin and son Glenn of Fountainebleau were the guests of her mother, Mrs. Eph. Sanders, on last Tuesday.

Mrs. Elmer Bennet and son John from Fairfield Station were callers at this place recently.

Wm. Rensel and wife of Fairfield visited Samuel Rensel and family on Sunday last.

Geo. Mills of this place is engaged harvesting for Crist Musselman of Franklin county.

John Watson of Pike county, Pa., was a caller of his father, Robt. Watson and family recently.

Ira Bieseker of Orrtanna, John Brown and Misses Beulah and Sadie Bream of Fairfield visited Lola Hummelbaugh on last Sunday evening.

Ed. Sanders and family from Gettysburg and Clarence, Gertie and Gervie Sanders from Chambersburg were recent guests of the family of A. G. Sanders.

Miss Regina Peters visited Misses Ada and Bessie Shriner near Zora quite recently.

J. E. Kissinger made a business trip to Gettysburg on last Saturday.

There will be preaching at Fairfield Station Sunday July 17 at 2 o'clock by Rev. W. L. Martin of Thurmont. The public is cordially invited.

HEAVY WHEAT CROP IN UPPER END

Aspers July 8.—Eli W. Guise was the first of our farmers to cut grain, which he did on July 1st inst., and on Monday the 4th a number of our farmers got out their binders and began to work in the grain in dead earnest. The crop is a heavy one and seems to promise an excellent yield all through this section.

The street parade and festival held by the P. O. S. of A. order in Bendersville on Saturday evening brought the largest crowd ever seen in Bendersville on any occasion. And the parade contained four brass bands which inspired the people with patriotic music. The proceeds amounted to $55 and certainly speaks well for the organization which worked so earnestly to provide entertainment for all present. The P. O. S. of A. has worked its way among the young men in this section until it now contains above one hundred members, which includes almost all the professional and business men and leading young farmers who made quite an imposing scene while in parade as a body on Saturday evening.

Dr. A. W. Howard and son Dwight and family of Harrisburg were among old friends over the 4th and Mervin Heller and wife of Reading were home with his mother, Mrs. E. Jennie Day, over the 4th.

Chas. L. Osborne and Mrs. Cleatus Naylor, who have been on the sick list, are improved at this writing, the former being able to be at work again.

James A. McBeth, R. F. D. carrier at this place, spent the 4th with friends at Harrisburg, Steelton and Middletown.

Harvey Mowers spent the 4th in Carlisle and John W. Starnier visited old friends in Steelton.

U. Grant McBeth and family of Shippensburg were among friends around Mt. Tabor Saturday and Sunday.

W. A. Starnier and wife and E. G. Ross and wife who had been spending several weeks at the World's Fair have returned home.

Hay making is on in earnest but the farmers have much wet weather to contend with, which causes the work to proceed rather slowly.

W. E. Eichelberger has masons at work in building a foundation wall for an addition to his coach and repair shops.

Fillmore Peters has moved his saw mill to one of the tracts of Ruthanna Wickersham near Mt. Tabor.

D. C. Asper has a new bay window and porches added to his dwelling houses and Garrett Baish is at present painting the house.

W. A. Guise, son of Eli D. Guise, who resides in Harrisburg, has been spending several weeks with his parents.

John W. Bowers has had plasterers engaged for some time plastering his new house which he erected recently.

A. N. Fohl is busily engaged in erecting hay forks for the farmers and the heavy hay crop keeps him rushed with orders.

WET WEATHER STOPPED WORK.

Buchanan Valley, July 11.—David Clapsaddle arrived at his brother Frank's from Montana on last Tuesday and will leave this week for California where he expects to make his home.

Rev. Father W. A. Howard has been appointed assistant pastor to Rev. F. C. Noel, of Chambersburg, instead of Rev. R. J. Coam, who has been sent to Hanover, Pa., by the Rt. Rev. Bishop Shanahan of Harrisburg.

John Hoffman, Jr., of Chambersburg, was in the valley over Sunday last.

Visitors to the valley recently were Miss Tracy, of Orrtanna, Miss Hershey and Ira Orner of Arendtsville and Cecil Knouse.

On Thursday Misses Emily and Louise Brinkerhoff, of Gettysburg, Misses Loretto and Alice Clantice, of Baltimore and Miss Elizabeth Cook, of Pittsburg spent the day with our correspondent.

The farmers cannot make hay or plough their corn on account of the wet weather.

Mrs. Wm. Reyder and children of Philadelphia, came to spend the summer with her mother Mrs. Annie Shorb.

Miss Ettie Martin, after spending several weeks with her sister, Mrs. A. W. Cole, has gone to visit her brother Harry and wife at the home place of Hon. Wm. Martin.

The raspberries and late cherries are now ripe and very plentiful. There are some fine raspberries grown in the valley.

MAD DOG IN ARENDTSVILLE SHOT

Arendtsville, July 11.—Last Friday Postmaster Lower's bird dog took a fit of rabies. Mrs. Lower narrowly escaped being bitten before he was shot. Calvin Thomas, Mr. Lower's next door neighbor, fearing his dog was bitten had it shot. The town council ordered the owners of dogs in this place to muzzle or keep them tied for two weeks.

The peach trees in this locality are heavy laden with fruit. Apples will be about a half crop. Grapes also bid fair for a large crop.

The weather has been very wet during the last week and has delayed grain cutting very much.

Otho Gallagher, formerly of near this place, but now of Kansas, while working on the railroad fell off the truck which ran over him breaking his collar bone and several ribs. He is getting along as well as could be expected.

The Mountain Valley Band, of this place, had their new band stand tastefully painted.

Among visitors here recently were Ralph Smelser of Lancaster and Miss Anna Mohr, of Reading, at H. J. Smelser's; Miss Sarah Klepper, of Philadelphia and Mrs. Henry Heidman and daughter Edna, of York, at Jacob Klepper's; Misses Hannah Wisnor, Edna Slack and Helen Catter, of the Millersville S. N. S., at C. S. Rice's.

A. M. Fissel sold eight fat cattle to Chas. Hartman. They weighed 930 pounds and gained 230 pounds each.

Get ready for N. G. P. week, our stock of Table Linens, Towels, Napkins, Bed Coverings, Pillow Cases, Sheets, etc., is complete and prices lowest. Dougherty and Hartley.

Flour's Sunday School will hold a festival at the church on Saturday evening, July 23.

Lost—Lumber Pass Book. Liberal reward upon return to this office.

PELL FROM A LOADED HAY WAGON

REAPER CUT OFF HEAD OF A HATCHING QUAIL ON TWENTY EGGS

Eggs Were Placed Under Hen and She Hatched Out Whole Brood First Threshing Gave Yield of 23 Bushels to Acre

East Berlin, July 11.—Mrs. Barbara Tschop, wife of John Tschop, formerly of this place, was operated upon in the York Hospital last Tuesday for a cancerous growth in the abdomen. Death resulted from exhaustion on Thursday morning at 1.30 a. m. The remains were brought here on Saturday noon and interred in the Union Cemetery of this place. Services were conducted in the Reformed Church by Rev. Spangler of this place and Rev. Baer of York. Deceased was aged 58 years, 6 months and 22 days and survived by her husband, three sons and one daughter. Mr. Tschop and family were for many years residents of this town until two years ago, when they moved to West York.

The first threshing done in this vicinity was on Saturday by D. P. Wagner of this place. The yield from two and one-half acres of wheat was 57 bushels. Last week while John Myers of Reading township was mowing grass the knife of the reaper cut off the head of a quail which had under it 20 eggs, most of which were pecked. Taking these home Mr. Myers placed the eggs under a hen which hatched out 20 quail chicks. Two of them the hen killed and discovering that nine ran away Mr. Myers put the rest in the garden and they are now becoming very tame.

About two weeks ago Mrs. Oliver Myers of Reading township, while returning home from the field fell off a loaded hay wagon, seriously spraining her neck. She is slowly recovering.

Last Monday Mrs. George Baker of this place fell from a ladder when picking cherries and fractured the bones of her right arm just above the wrist.

AN ORDINANCE

PROVIDING FOR AN ANNUAL LICENSE TAX ON ALL CARRIAGES, VEHICLES, CHAIRES, PERSONS, HORSES, WITHIN THE BOROUGH OF GETTYSBURG, PENNA., LIMITING THE CHARGES AND REGULATING THE SAME.

Be it enacted and ordained by the Burgess and Town Council of the Borough of Gettysburg, Penna., and it is hereby enacted and ordained by authority of the same, Sec. 1.—It shall not be lawful for any person to run or use any hack, wagon, carriage, omnibus or other vehicle for the carrying of persons for pay within the said Borough without first having obtained a license for that purpose, which shall be issued by the Burgess, on payment by the applicant in the manner hereinafter provided, of an annual license tax of FIVE DOLLARS for a one-horse vehicle, of TEN DOLLARS for a two-horse vehicle, and of THREE DOLLARS for each and every vehicle over two owned, one lida, by one individual or firm; the payment of the said license tax shall be made to the Treasurer of the said Borough, who shall receipt for the same and countersign the license certificate before the same shall be valid.

Sec. 2.—The rate or price of fare within the limits of the said Borough shall not exceed the sum of TWENTY-FIVE CENTS for each person.

Sec. 3.—The said Borough shall provide and furnish a suitable tag or device of durable material, numbered from one consecutively, and which shall vary in color from year to year and commence at No. 1 each year, and be given the applicants as the licenses are issued, and posted by them in a visible place on the right-hand side of each vehicle licensed. The said tags and numbers shall remain the property of the Borough and shall be returned to the Burgess on the expiration of the license, or if not so returned and used after the expiration of the license the same shall be deemed a violation of this ordinance.

Sec. 4.—All licenses issued under the provisions of this ordinance shall be dated as of June 1st, 1904, and as of June 1st of each succeeding year, and expire on June 1st of the following year. Provided, however, that all licenses issued under the Ordinance approved April 22nd, 1889, shall expire therein provided, unless the holders thereof agree to surrender the same and receive a proportionate reduction, to be computed and allowed by the Burgess, for a license under this Ordinance.

Sec. 5.—Any person violating any of the provisions of this Ordinance and convicted thereof by the Burgess or a Justice of the Peace shall forfeit and pay a fine of not less than five nor more than fifty dollars and the costs of prosecution, to be recovered according to law.

Sec. 6.—The Ordinance approved April 27th, 1889, relating to the licensing of hacks, &c., is hereby repealed.

Enacted into an Ordinance this 23rd day of June, 1904.

A. B. PLANK, President of Town Council.

W. H. KAUFMEISER, Secretary.

Approved this 23rd day of June, 1904.

H. S. BENNER, Burgess.

DEMOCRACY'S GREAT PLATFORM

of race or creed, we favor the beginning of negotiations with the governments of such countries to secure by treaties the removal of these unjust discriminations.

We demand that all over the world a duly authenticated passport issued by the Government of the United States to an American citizen shall be proof of the fact that he is an American citizen and shall entitle him to the treatment due him as such.

Election of Senators by the People.

We favor the election of United States Senators by the direct vote of the people.

Statehood for Territories

We favor the admission of the Territories of Oklahoma and the Indian Territory. We also favor the immediate admission of Arizona and New Mexico as separate states and a Territorial government for Alaska and Porto Rico. We hold that the officials appointed to administer the government of any Territory as well as the district of Alaska should be bona fide residents at the time of their appointment for the Territory or district in which their duties are to be performed.

Condemnation of Polygamy

We demand the extermination of polygamy within the jurisdiction of the United States and the complete separation of Church and State in political affairs.

Merchant Marine

We denounce the ship subsidy bill recently passed by the United States Senate as an iniquitous appropriation of public funds for private purposes and a wasteful, illogical and useless attempt to overcome by subsidy the obstructions raised by Republican legislation to the growth and development of American commerce on the sea. We favor the up-building of a merchant marine without new or additional burdens upon the people and without bounties from the public treasury.

Reciprocity

We favor liberal trade arrangements with Canada and with people of other countries where they can be entered into with benefit to American agriculture, manufactures, mining or commerce.

Monroe Doctrine.

We favor the maintenance of the Monroe Doctrine in its full integrity.

Army.

We favor the reduction of the army and of army expenditure to a point historically demonstrated to be safe and sufficient.

Pensions and Our Soldiers and Sailors

The Democracy would secure to the surviving soldier and sailors and their dependents generous pensions, not by an arbitrary executive order, but by legislation which a grateful people stand ready to enact.

Our soldiers and sailors who defend with their lives the Constitution and the laws have a sacred interest in their just administration. They must therefore share with us the humiliation with which we have witnessed the exaltation of court favorites, without distinguished service, over the scarred heroes of many battles of their aggrandizement by executive appropriation out of the treasuries of a prostrate people in violation of the act of Congress which fixed the compensation of allowance of the military officers.

Civil Service

The Democratic party stands committed to the principles of civil service.

WHO CANNOT BE CURED.

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription need fully warrant in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States for any case of Leucorrhoea, Female Weakness, Protrusion, or Falling of Womb, which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

"I was a great sufferer for six years and doctored all the time with a number of physicians but did not derive any benefit," writes Mrs. George Sogden, of 64 Bonds Street, Saginaw (South), Michigan. "I had given up all hope of ever getting better. Thought I would write to you. When I received your letter telling me what to do I commenced to take your 'Favorite Prescription' and follow your advice. I have taken ten bottles in all, also five vials of the Pleasant Pellets. Am now regular, and having missed two years and suffered with pain in the head and back. I was so nervous, could not eat or sleep. Now I can thank you for my recovery."

Don't hesitate to write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Chief Consulting Physician, the Ladies' Medical and Sanitary Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y., if you want good medical advice from a fully qualified physician as to your personal good health. Such letters are always answered free of charge and confidentially.

A medicine which has outlasted all others for women in the past third of a century and being recommended by all those who have used it, is a good remedy for the "Pleasant Pellets." Favorite Prescription is purely vegetable and does not contain a particle of alcohol to destroy the blood corpuscles and weaken the system. Do not permit the dealer to insult your intelligence by suggesting some other compound which he recommends as "just as good," because he makes it himself.

vice reform, and we demand their honest, just and impartial enforcement. We denounce the Republican party for its continued and sinister encroachments upon the spirit and operation of civil service rules, whereby it has arbitrarily dispensed with examinations for office in the interests of favorites and employed all manner of devices to overreach and set aside the principles upon which civil service was established.

School and Race Questions.

The race question has brought countless woes to this country. The calm wisdom of the American people should see to it that it brings no more.

To revive the dead and hateful race and sectional animosities in any part of our common countries means confusion, distraction of business and the reopening of wounds now happily healed.

North and South, East and West have but recently stood together in line of battle from the wall of Pekin to the hills of Santiago, and as sharers of a common glory and a common destiny we should share fraternally the common burdens.

We therefore deprecate and condemn the Bourbon like, selfish and narrow spirit of the recent Republican convention at Chicago, which sought to kindle anew the embers of racial and sectional strife, and we appeal from it to the sober common sense and spirit of the American people.

The Republican Administration.

The existing Republican Administration has been spasmodic, erratic, sensational, spectacular and arbitrary. It has made itself a satire upon the Congress, the courts and upon the settled practices and usages of national and international law.

It summoned the Congress into hasty and futile extra session and virtually adjourned it leaving behind its flight from Washington uncalculated and unaccomplished tasks.

It made war, which is the sole power of Congress without its authority, thereby usurping one of its fundamental prerogatives.

It violated a plain statute of the United States, as well as plain treaty obligations, international usages and constitutional law, and has done so under pretence of executing a great public policy which could have been more easily effected lawfully, constitutionally and with honor.

It forced strained and unnatural constructions upon statutes, usurping judicial interpretation and substituting Congressional enactment.

It withdrew from Congress their customary duties of investigation which have heretofore made the representatives of the people and the States the terror of evil doers.

It conducted a secretive investigation of its own and boasted of a few sample convictions, while it threw a broad coverlet over the bureaus which had been their chosen field of operative abuses and kept in power the superior officers under whose administration the crimes had been committed.

It ordered assaults upon some monopolies, but paralyzed by its first victory, it flung out the flag of truce and cried out that it would not "run amuck," leaving its future purposes beclouded by its vacillations.

Conducting the campaign upon this declaration of our principles, and purposes, we invoke for our candidates the support, not only of our great and time honored organization, but also the active assistance of all of our fellow citizens, who disregarding past differences on questions no longer in issue, desire the perpetuation of our constitutional government as framed and established by the fathers of the Republic.

The World's Best Selling Book

The Bible is the best selling book in the world. It leads, and by a long interval, all other publications in copies purchased in the ordinary channels of trade, without regard to what may be called the official distribution. Every bookstore which undertakes to carry a full line of stock sells the Bible. Several important corporations confine themselves to the manufacture and sale of Bibles, and others find in the Bible their leading feature. Of no other book can this be said. Speaking some time ago of the insatiable demand for the Bible as an article of merchandise, an officer of the Methodist Book Concern, which till recently issued cheap editions of the Bible, said: "Like all publishers, we have to keep watch of the sale of books in general, even the most popular, so as to not get overstocked. But this never occurs in printing the Bible. We just keep the presses steadily at work, and if we find that we have forty or fifty thousand copies on hand, it gives us no uneasiness. We are sure to sell them, and we go straight ahead printing."

PARKER AND HIS NEIGHBORS

WHAT HIS COUNTRY NEIGHBORS SAY ABOUT JUDGE PARKER

A Delightful Sketch of the Democratic Candidate for President, who was Born on a Farm and Lives on a Farm.

There is one strong Republican community in Theodore Roosevelt's own State where the incumbent of the White House will not secure a single vote in the Presidential election next November. That is Esopus, the home village of Chief Judge Alton B. Parker, where his neighbors have already elected him President of the United States on the Democratic ticket.

The Judge's fellow-townsmen are simply waiting for their votes to be counted and March 4 next to arrive, when Esopus will be well represented at the inauguration of President Parker. That is exactly the way the 325 inhabitants of Esopus village look at the matter.

His Neighbors Poor Folk.

Judge Parker has chosen for his immediate neighbors plain, simple and poor country people. His 90 acre farm faces the classic Hudson, and his comfortable but old fashioned residence is located on very high ground, which overlooks the beautiful stream far to the south and north, in plain view of the passing steamers. The western border of the Judge's farm skirts the village. The little, unpretentious station, on the West Shore railway is nearly three-quarters of a mile back of the Judge's house. The modest little buildings of the village are very near the depot. Here is a community within 80 miles of New York city and 60 of Albany where the people are just as countrified as can be found anywhere 1000 miles from the nation's metropolis.

Emory Freer has been the storekeeper at Esopus for 42 years. He is a typical country storekeeper, and the villagers and farmers for some distance back of Esopus gather at this clearing house for their daily and weekly talks and an interchange of views on the now one live topic of Esopus. Emory Freer is a leader among the villagers and countrymen around here. He and Judge Parker are great friends. The Judge often visits the store and chats with the proprietor.

Countrymen came into the store while this conversation was going on and Freer, being anxious to talk about the Judge, said: "We have about 75 voters in Esopus. Forty-five of them are, I think, Republicans; 30 are Democrats. I know that every Republican here will vote for Judge Parker. They have told me so and are anxious to have a chance. We have nothing against President Roosevelt, but no one in Esopus will vote for anybody but Judge Parker."

Postmaster a Republican.

"Isn't your postmaster a Republican, and won't he vote the Republican ticket?" I asked. "You see," said Freer in reply, "Mr. Cole, a farmer, has been postmaster here for 10 years. Until recently the post office was in my store. Myself and my clerks attended to all the work. Mr. Cole did nothing but sign the reports every three months. I am a Democrat, and, of course, could not get the appointment, but my store seemed to be the most convenient place for the office."

"Judge Parker is the most remarkable man for friends I ever knew," said Freer. "I have known him for more than 30 years. I have never heard a man speak an unkind word about him in all that time. He is just as kind and polite to the poor as he is to the rich. He is absolutely the greatest poor man's friend that I ever knew. He makes no boast of his work. I see poor, unfortunate people come into this store who tell me about Judge Parker or Mrs. Parker giving them a dollar or five dollars, food or clothing. A poor man or woman in need is never turned away from Judge Parker's house empty-handed."

Mrs. Maloney is For Him.

"An old woman, typically Irish, was in the store and heard Freer's kind words for Judge Parker. He turned and asked her if what he said about the Judge wasn't true. 'Indade,' said Mrs. Maloney, it's every bit of it true. The Judge always sez to me when he comes down the road, 'Good mornin', Mrs. Maloney.' The Judge brings big governors an' judges to his house, an' when he sits beside these governors and judges in his kerridge he meets me on the road, an' he sez to me so all the governors and judges hear him, 'as poor as I am, the Judge he sez to me, 'Good mornin', Mrs. Maloney.'"

"There," said Freer, evidently pleased with the endorsement Mrs. Maloney had given his words about the Judge, "didn't I tell you that the women and children, as well as the men, were all for Judge Parker?"

I HEREBY acknowledge receipt of check from Fidelity & Casualty Co. of New York, being in full and liberal settlement of my claim for both total and partial disablement, from accident. G. E. SPANGLER.

The Fidelity & Casualty Co. has been doing business for past 28 years, has been represented at Gettysburg by Martin Winter for past 10 years. The surplus for protection of policy-holders is $167,794.00, losses paid to policy holders in 1903 $1,812,755.00. This company insures against accident and sickness, the rates are practically no higher than in companies with little or no financial backing and some of which have scarcely been in existence one year. When insuring why not get the best—something more than plausible talk and promises are required to make the best—experience, fair-dealing and financial backing on the part of the company make the best. # G. W. WEAVER & SON THE LEADERS Clearing Decks of Wool Dress Goods

THIS IS THE WAY It is perfectly natural that advertising statements of sacrificing prices on merchandise should be taken with some incredulity. Merchants do not wish to pose as philanthropists in this sense and therefore it is a little hard to believe that Seasonable Goods are to be sold at less than cost of making. Sometimes, but—if you were behind the scenes you would probably realize the necessity for price sacrifices to clean stock towards the end of a season so as to be able to count actual profits on the season's business.

We have gone over our immense Dress Goods stock and culled several hundred yards of "left overs" which we cannot take chances on in selling in the regular way at the regular prices so DOWN GOES THE PRICE to clean up quick to half and even less than their intrinsic value.

CONGRESSIONAL NOMINATION.

It has been understood in a general way that the nomination for Congress belonged to Adams County this year. The nomination has always been going twice to the same county before a sister county in district was entitled to her turn, and by every precedent and right it belongs to this county this year. H. N. Gitt is the only registered candidate in York county and hence the only candidate there. There has been talk down in York that Gitt was only out to capture the delegates and hold things in line for two years from now. This course seems to have met with some unfavorable criticism possibly by those who wished to force him to go up against a contest now, in order to make a possible chance for other aspirants later on. Mr. Gitt has finally been drawn out to make the following statement. "The reports that I am out simply to capture the delegates, and that I registered for that purpose, are entirely incorrect. I understand that such reports have been circulated. They have no foundation in fact. I desire the Democratic Congressional nomination, and if my constituents see fit to give it to me I propose to have it." This need not cause Adams Democrats any uneasiness. We believe the nomination will be conceded to this county in the end and the prospects are that this is going to be a Democratic year and in a Presidential year with a big vote out, a Democrat will surely go to Congress from this district.

TREE TRIMMING.

The Town Council seemed to be in earnest in their purpose to have the trees trimmed and it is our idea that the subject should not be dropped until the trees are trimmed. The idea of a number of councilmen to employ a man to trim all trees that remain untrimmed ought to be followed if the citizens will not do what should be done. Some of the most beautiful shade trees in town are those that have been trimmed high up. There is enough of the top left for shade and there is a better circulation of air underneath. But one reason above all others settles this question. The shade trees of no citizen should be allowed to interfere with the public getting the fullest benefit of the electric light which the borough pays for. The town has a good steady light now and it would amply light the town if it was not for the trees. The trees are an ornament and no one advocates any injury to them. Only trim them so as to give the street all possible light. If the people will not trim, let the borough then do it and collect the expense. It could be done for a small amount. Many property owners would pay and those who refused might be made to. At any rate the trees would be trimmed.

THE TIME TO ANNOUNCE.

The time has come for all candidates for the various offices for which nominations are to be made to announce themselves. The convention of the Adams County Democracy will meet on August 15, but a little over three weeks off. It is only fair and right for every candidate who proposes to go before the convention asking for a nomination to announce himself. In fairness to every candidate and the party, each candidate should announce himself so that the names of all those mentioned for the various offices may be known by everyone. In many counties party rules require candidates for nominations to register their names a specified time before the meeting of the convention. It is a first-class rule. Every candidate knows when the time is up exactly what he is up against and who will contest with him for the nomination. It is up to every candidate to do his best and with everyone in sight he works intelligently. The candidates who fail have no one to blame but themselves. The party rules have started everyone even and given every one the same chance. It is a good healthy party rule. The same thing would work out in this county if all candidates would announce themselves. Two or three weeks before the convention should by common consent be the last date for an announcement, or those who have not announced themselves by Aug. 3, say, should not ask that their names be considered by the convention. This would prevent any one quietly working up a canvass and then announcing at the last hour. If such a one succeeds there are always complaints. The fair way for the good of the party is to come out and announce in good time and then go to work in full knowledge of each other's canvass.

To-day, a weekly newspaper with Alvin P. Seilhammer as Editor and Publisher, made its appearance with No. 1 of Vol. 1 on last Saturday. It is 8 pages of 4 columns each well put up on good paper with an attractive illustration in initial number on first page of a local type of beauty. On other pages were pictures of those who occupy prominent places in the local political world at present. The new paper has our wishes for a prosperous career.

Church Remodeled

The first Evangelical Lutheran Church of New Oxford is being repaired and repainted both outside and inside to be ready for the new pipe organ to be put in place in September. The walls of the church will be handsomely frescoed and the wood work and pews will be done to correspond. A York man has the contract for the work.

Trouble to Condemn York Pike.

The York end of the old Gettysburg turnpike has not been successfully condemned. The viewers gave the Company $3600 but Judge Stewart set aside report of viewers upon exceptions of the company for errors contained in report and the matter was referred back to the viewers to do their work over.

Cut Hand on Fruit Jar.

Emanuel Shetter, son of Benj. Shetter, of Mountpleasant township, cut his right hand recently on the sharp edge of a glass jar. He was trying to open a fruit jar and it broke. Cut between thumb and index finger, was four inches in length and required a number of stitches to draw it together.

GETTYSBURG, PA., MAY 24, 1904.

TO THE VOTERS OF ADAMS AND FULTON COUNTIES:

MY FELLOW DEMOCRATS:

Since very many of my friends have asked me to be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for President Judge of this District, it is due to you and to them that I make known my position in the matter.

It seems to me that a Judgeship should not be unduly sought; nor, unless for good reasons, be declined, if offered. No higher honor could come to me than to be called by the votes of my fellow citizens to preside as President Judge over the Courts of this Judicial District.

If I am nominated I will gladly accept the nomination, and I will use every legal and honorable means to secure my election.

It will be a pleasure for me to meet you and to hear from you; and I trust you will confer with your delegates so that your wishes in the matter may be known and your nominee when named may be satisfactory to the majority of the voters. If I am nominated and elected I will discharge the duties of my office with fidelity.

Very truly yours,
WM. MCSHERRY.

TO THE DEMOCRATIC VOTERS OF ADAMS AND FULTON COUNTIES.

The position of President Judge of this Judicial District is one that should be sought after honorably and fairly and if acquired should be filled impartially and justly. After repeated requests from my friends to be a candidate for this office I have decided to announce myself as such, subject to the decision of the Democratic Convention of Adams Co., and the Democratic Conference of this District. If nominated by the Adams County Convention I will use every honorable means to secure the District nomination and if successful in obtaining this, will exert every effort fairly and honorably to secure my election.

Yours very truly,
CHAS. S. DUNCAN

TO THE DEMOCRATIC VOTERS OF ADAMS AND FULTON COUNTIES:

I hereby announce my candidacy for the Democratic nomination for the office of President Judge of the 51st Judicial District, composed of the Counties of Adams and Fulton. Subject to the decision of the Adams County Convention and the District Conference.

CROP CONDITIONS ARE THE BEST

THE OATS CROP WILL BE THE BEST

RAISED FOR YEARS

The Corn Crop is Very Promising—Levi Weikert Making His Place Valuable with Improvements.

Barlow, July 19.—And now the click of the binder which has been heard for the last two weeks is silent, and the golden grain cut and bound into sheaves is being gathered into barns and sheds. By this time most of it is housed. It was a hard harvest to gather on account of the wet weather. The husbandman breathes easier as he contemplates the fruits of his labor.

The gathering of the clover and timothy will be satisfactory, as the crop in this section is good.

Oats will be next to claim the farmers attention. It will be the best crop that has been raised for years.

We are glad to say the growing corn looks very promising.

The steam whistle can be heard in all sections this morning, but haven't heard any report of the yield of wheat.

Mrs. Rev. Charles Fisher and her two children, of Charlotte, North Carolina, are on a visit to N. M. Horner, Esq., and wife of this place.

T. Shryock and J. Harry Topper, of near this place, have purchased a rye threshing outfit, now farmers give them a chance.

Levi Weikert has made many decided improvements at his place, adding much to its beauty and value. He tore down the old kitchen and erected a new one. The old smoke house has gone and there is a new one in its place. House and barn have been overhauled, repaired and painted as well as fence. The place looks brand new all over.

That "played out"—"done up" feeling makes life miserable for every sufferer from Kidney ills, backaches, headaches and urinary troubles, painful and annoying.

Doan's Kidney Pills

bring new life and activity, remove the pain and cure the cause, from common backache to dangerous diseases.

Mr. S. R. Bolinger, who resides at 426
South Lakes street, bookkeeper at W. H.
H. Zellers' cigar factory, York, Pa., says:
"Backache became so frequent that I could find nothing to cure it or even to relieve it. I could not do a day's work without suffering. While trying one medicine after another my attention was attracted by an account of Doan's Kidney Pills in the papers, and of course they in turn were given a trial. I procured them at Holnett's drug store. Before I had taken a box of them I had no backache. I could work at the desk as steadily as I liked and did not even get tired in the back."

For sale by all druggists; 50 cents. Fos-

(Original.)

He was very analytical. He had a way of probing things to the core and extracting the principles on which they were built. He had been a professor,
then a captain in the Spanish-American war, from which he had emerged colonel by brevet, but minus an arm. He couldn't lecture because his subject was illustrated by experiments which required two hands. After returning to civil life he found himself in possession of a small cash sum. He came in with the troops that landed at Montauk point and stopped over at one of the seaside resorts between the point and New York.

She was a young widow. She owned a cottage on the seashore and this season occupied it. At the bank in the village she deposited her funds. She did not keep a carriage, for she said she was afraid of horses, but she dressed well.

These two met. The colonel was delighted with the widow because—because she was very well fixed with this world's goods. The widow was delighted with the colonel for reasons which she kept concealed. To all appearances it was because he knew so much.

One morning they were sitting on the veranda of the widow's cottage. The colonel asked her if she had a blank
check in the house. She produced one,
and he filled it for $100, saying that he was going to the village to get the money. The widow asked him if he would kindly draw a check for her at the same time. He complied. Her check was also for $100. From that time forward the widow drew her money through the colonel, $100 every five or ten days.

One evening they were sitting on the beach listening to the splash of the waves.

"Colonel," said the widow, "suppose you analyze love."

"Love," said the colonel, feeling his chin thoughtfully with his only hand.
"is congeniality. Just as there are harmonious strings so there are harmonious souls. I do not admit that love is long in coming. When it exists, we feel it at once. It reaches us not as slowly rising water, but with all the delicious exhilaration of the wave that breaks over us. But I do admit that the harmony is enduring in proportion as those loving find that the image
each has built up to worship is worthy.
What joy can compare with that sweet sympathy which exists between lovers?
The man feels an impulse to nobility from being thought noble. The woman is inspired to sweetness of character
from a like motive. Each takes care to appear to the other what he or she is thought to be. Such stimulants to be better are always beneficial. It is better to look up than to look down."

When people who wish to be lovers
begin to talk of love in the abstract,
the transaction is easy to love in the concrete. The tide was at the ebb
when they first spoke of the sensation, and before it reached the flood they were betrothed.

There was nothing to interfere with the harmony of love till seven days
had passed, when they began to speak of their individual affairs as related to their mutual comfort. Then they were not long in uncovering that which was to the harmony of their souls
what a bass drum would be to church music. The bank account of each was $100, which each had drawn and re-deposited ad infinitum. The colonel was without any support whatever.
The widow usually lived on the rental of her cottage, which during the present season had not been rented.

"Hui!" said the colonel softly when the secret was out.

"I have usually supposed," remarked the widow tartly, "that when a man
proposes to a woman he has the wherewithal to support her."

"In my analysis of love," replied the colonel, "while I denied that it came slowly, I admitted that its endurance was proportionate."

"Tut, tut!" The widow's toe was wagging viciously.

"The man feels an impulse to nobility from being thought noble."

"By a fool."

"The woman is inspired to sweetness of character from a like motive. Each takes care to appear to the other what he or she is thought to be."

"Pertaining especially to the man in this case. It's lucky I found you out before it was too late."

"I could wish," replied the colonel,
"that we had never found each other out. What joy can compare with that sweet sympathy?"

"Insane folly, you mean."

The colonel rose, took up his hat,
hugged his mutilated arm and said
"good night." The kiss that had marked their partings for a week was omitted. The next day the warrior preceded on his way. He and the widow never met again.

Later he met a lady who did not understand his analytical nature, but conceived a high regard for him on account of the dangers he had passed.
He told her the story of his affair with the widow, confessing his own part in the transaction. The lady spoke of the former "flame" as contemptible. When he asked why she was more to blame
than himself his new flame declared that no soldier with the evidence of his bravery apparent in his mutilated arm should be blamed for anything he might do.

"Them," said the colonel gallantly, "I run no risk in offering you my heart
and hand."

There was nothing in the hand, but the lady loved him, and she had a great deal in the bank.

LIES THE MAPS TELL

NOT ABOUT LOCATION, BUT IN THE MATTER OF NAMES.

For Instance, Greenland Isn't Green
by Any Means—Nor Is the Black Sea Black—The German Ocean Isn't German, and It Isn't an Ocean.

In few places will you find more healthy, robust lies to the square inch than an average map, and this is the document that is daily placed in the hands of our young.

Begin up north and take Greenland.
Was there ever a more flagrant impos-
ture than the name of this country?
It isn't green and never was green and never will be green. Here is what the gazetteer says about this "green" country:

"It is high and rocky and barren. It is covered with eternal snow and ciers. July is the only month in which there is no snow." There's a picture of greenness for you!

How did it get called green? Well by an unscrupulous falsehood on the part of a tenth century reprobate called Eric the Red of Iceland. This ancient shark accidentally ran against the ice patch in question with a few other Icelanders of his own kidney.
He cut back to Iceland and "boom!"
it for all he was worth.

He called it Greenland and to delude
the Iceland investors and general public said it was a wonderful green country, which he wished them to visit with their families and take shares in some mines he had discovered. Well, some of the deluded creatures went.
They never returned to good old Iceland any more.

But there are plenty of equally gross impostures. Take the Black sea, for instance. Why black? Who said it was black? It is no more black than it is pink or purple. The ancients called it the "Euxine"—which means "un-hospitable"—see. That was another good old fiction. It is not at all an inhospitable sea, for, having no tides, it is one of the easiest to navigate. Now and again there are big storms just to give the sea a realistic touch, but generally speaking it isn't black, and it isn't inhospitable.

The Cape of Good Hope! Good Hope, indeed! Ask anybody who has been round that promontory what they think of it. The only "good hope" they experience is a good hope that they will soon get ashore, for it is one of the roughest and stormiest places known to mariners. What we should call a cyclone on the North sea would be smug at round the cape as a bit of breeze. The gentleman who called it Cape of Good Hope was a crude sort of humorist. He made his money in the king business, styling himself John
II. of Portugal. His faithful subject
Diaz discovered it and told his majesty that he had called it the "Stormy cape." But the king would have none of it. He said that he hoped Diaz would find something else round the other side next time he went to the cape, so he called it Cape of Good Hope.

Why the Dead sea? The locality
may be as dead as a doornail, but the sea itself is pretty lively. It is the saltiest piece of water on the face of the earth, ten times as salt as the ocean. Of course there is no particular vegetation roundabout, and the sea is free from monsters, but that doesn't make the sea itself dead. It is really a most live sea.

Why English channel? It's no more English than it's French. The French themselves don't call it English at all,
but simply "La Manche."

Then was ever a more absurd name given to that bit of water which separates England from Holland, called the German ocean? Why German?
There's nothing German about it and never has been. Dutch, Belgian or British, if you like, but not German.
Then why ocean? It is not an ocean at all. There is a piece of water that size between Australia and Tasmania, if anything rather wider, which they call a strait—Bass strait. Just fancy the absurdity of teaching the child mind to think that crossing to Ostend or Antwerp is an ocean trip.

North sea, too, is absurd. Why north?
It is not north of anything in particular. It is east of Britain, west of Holland, Belgium and Denmark and south of Norway and Sweden. It is not a north sea at all.

There are some islands in the Pacific
—why Pacific, by the way? Where does the peace come in on that desolate, typhoony, billowy, tidal wavy wilderness called the Friendly islands? Look at the encyclopedia's version of their friendliness: "They are volcanic,
and earthquakes are frequent. Islands are frequently upheaved. Hurricanes are constant." Then the friendly natives! The sole reason the islands were called Friendly is because when Captain Cook visited them he found the natives had not got any arms. So they were friendly. No doubt! But when the missionaries tried to convert them they had a different tale to tell. For thirty years they endured "a perilous struggle with the savage paganism of the inhabitants."

I could call your attention to dozens more of cases of monstrous mendacity
on the part of the map. But the editor has just taken away my atlas—Pearson's Weekly.

Clubmen's Real Worries.

McJigger—Here's a rather clever little book, "Don'ts For Clubmen." Thingumbob—Huh! It isn't the "don'ts" that worry clubmen; it's the dues.— Philadelphia Press.

Ever notice how quickly you can pick out the man who takes up your time and with whom you never do any business?—Atchison Globe.

CRETAN LEPERS

Their Numbers Are Swelled by Their Food and Their Filth.

In the small island of Crete leprosy
is shockingly prevalent. The Cretans have themselves to thank for this state of affairs. The houses may be pretty and whitewashed on the outside, but within the filth is fearful. And the food they eat is just what encourages leprosy. The Greek forbids meat about 200 days out of the year, so as good Christians they must live on salt fish,
which is not improved by its long journey from north to south
here. The olive oil is so plentiful—they export 20,000 tons each year—that they use it to excess, even adding it to the rice of a rice pudding. But the cooking evil is pork, the favorite fare of the Cretans on days when the church allows them to eat meat. The leper is not cut off here as he is in the Mali islands or in the Cape. Outside each village may be seen a little white house called "lepercholon." Here the lepers live. Their estates, if they have any, are administered for them
by friends, and any one passing by the door may speak to them. If the sufferers be poor the state provides each day a loaf of bread, and the charity of passersby adds the luxuries.—New York Herald.

THE PRIMITIVE STAGE.

How the Drama Flourished in the Time of Elizabeth.

The great plays of Marlowe, Shakespeare and Jonson were performed by actors in Elizabethan dress in front of a curtain, usually in daylight, on a little stage partly occupied by the gallants of the period, with their pipes and tobacco pipes. There was no fashionable actress, no orchestra, no limelight, yet the drama was more popular than churchgoing and held its own
even with such gentle sports as bull baiting and "wiping of the blind beare." The little that we know of the actors shows them, with the exception of Burbage and Nathaniel Field, to have been very ordinary workaday
people, with empty pockets and domestic affections and other modern characteristics. Yet the protests of the Puritans, the avaricious records of the censor and the continual erection of new theaters in spite of the solemn threats of the city fathers are evidence enough of the marvellous popularity to which the art attained in that "spacious time" of playhouses most remarkable for lack of space.—London World.

OIL ON THE WATER.

Its Soothing Effect Was Known as Early as the Sixth Century.

A few gallons of oil cast upon stormy seas moderates their violence and prevents the waves from breaking with force. That this is the case has long been known. Theophrastus, the Byzantine historian of the sixth century, pronounced the question, "Why does oil calm the sea?" and answered it to the effect that as the wind is a subtle and delicate thing and oil is adhesive
and unctuous the wind glides over the surface of the water on which oil has been spread and cannot raise waves.
The wind, in fact, slips over the water
without being able to obtain a grip.
In the gulf of Mexico there is a remarkable stretch of water about two miles long by three-quarters of a mile broad to which the name of "oil spot"
has been given because in the worst of storms the mariner finds still water
there.

Its character as a safe harbor of refuge is said to be due to an oil content of the mud stirred up by the storm.

Pern's Whistling Jars.

Among the ruined cities of Peru
nearly fifty different kinds of musical instruments have been found. Unique among these are many double whistling jars or musical water bottles.
Near the top of the first or front jar,
which is usually surmounted by a human or animal figure, is the opening of the whistle. When the jars have been partly filled and are swung backward and forward a number of whistling sounds are produced. As the vessel swings forward and upward the water is lowered in the first jar and rises in the other. In the backward motion it rushes back into the first, forcing the air out through the whistle.

Customs in Mongolia.

Tea, with an admixture of salt and mutton grease, is the common beverage
in Mongolia. It is not recommendable. Snuff taking is universal, and the offer of the snuff bottle is the general method of greeting. Mongols appear to seclude their women in some measure, at least, from strangers, and a traveler's arrival is usually the signal for a hasty departure of the ladies of the family for the tents of their next neighbors.

The Whole Story.

Robert—Has your wife much curiosity? Richard—Oh, an awful lot. If I began to tell her what you told me standing on this corner she wouldn't hear a word of what you said until I told her what corner we were standing on.—Indianapolis Journal.

Timely Warning.

Fortune Teller—Beware of the handsome man with dark eyes and brilliant diamond pin. Fair Maid.—Why? Fortune Teller—You can't support him.— Smart Set.

Knew It.

She—I suppose you flatter yourself
you are a great man? He—I do not flatter myself. I merely recognize a fact.

To know how to be silent is more difficult and more profitable than to know how to speak.—Dumas.
